LUTHERANS TO ERECT $3,000,000 COLLEGE AT MT. PROSPECT

Did You Know? . . .

This is one of a series of articles this paper will carry on the services and facilities available in Arlington Heights. Its main objective is to be a source of information to newcomers, and to keep the established residents posted on the changes taking place. Suggestions for improvement will be offered from time to time if the particular subject being dealt with prompts such suggestion.

. . . that Arlington Heights has eight physicians and surgeons, two general practioners, seven dentists, one orthodontist, two optometrists, one naprapath, one chiropodist and one physical therapist to serve the medical needs of the residents?

JUST THIS FALL two physicians and surgeons and one dentist opened new offices in the village. It is no secret that most of the medical men in Arlington Heights have been overworked, finding it hard to take care of their regular patients let alone handle the influx of new families moving into the village.

A frequent cry among residents has been, "Why is it always so hard to get a doctor?" or "I called every doctor in town and finally had to get one from another village during an emergency last week," or, "I had to wait three months before I could get a dentist appointment."

The reason for this is that the growth of medical services did not keep pace with the increase in population in Arlington Heights. Consequently the doctors had many more patients to care for than they had hours in a day to work, which meant someone was bound to go unattended. This has been a regrettable circumstance, and is the main reason why the doctors in the village have welcomed the new ones.

ONE RECOMMENDATION for physicians and sugeons is that they form some type of emergency service so at least one doctor would be on call if an emergency arose. Time and again someone is injured on the job, at school or home and a doctor isn't available. If each doctor were assigned to a two or three hour period during the day or night that he would be on call for emergencies this could never happen. These calls could be dispersed through an operator or some person who would have the name of the doctor on duty during the particular time the emergency arose, who in turn, could contact the doctor and dispatch him within a matter of seconds.

Since there is no hospital in the immediate area, an emergency system of this sort is really a necessity. It would take the cooperation of all the doctors to work out such a plan, but it would be a welcomed addition to the present medical facilities.

THE TWO GENERAL practitioners have been practicing in Arlington Heights for more than 50 years. They are Dr. E. A. Elfeld, 403 N. Vail, and Dr. B. T. Best, 412 N. Dunton. In direct contrast to this are the two newest physicians and surgeons who opened offices here this fall. They are Dr. Robert C. Kloempken, 205 S. State rd., and Dr. George F. Smith, 7 W. Campbell.

Other established physicians and surgeons are: Dr. Herman J. Carr, 207 N. Evergreen; Dr. H. Paul Carstens, 6 N. Dunton; Dr. Royal F. Fitch, 111 N. Vail, (who deals primarily with the diseases of infants and children); Dr. Norbert F. Leckband, 6 N. Dunton; Dr. Harold O. Meisenheimer, 201 N. Dunton, and Dr. Earl S. Stephenson, 4 S. Dunton.

IN THE FIELD of dentistry the village has two dentists who have practiced here a quarter of a century or more. They are Dr. H. G. Dunn, 9 E. Campbell, who opened his office in 1924, and Dr. Edwin W. Baumann, 108 N. Evergreen, who began his practice in 1928. Dr. Bauman, by the way, is immediate past president of the Chicago Dental Society.

The newest dentist is Dr. Ernest F. Lidge, 7 W. Campbell, who came here this fall. Other dentists of longer standing are: Dr. Cyrus E. Hill, 201 N. Dunton; Dr. Paul Bostian, 4 S. Dunton; Dr. Harrie L. Hall, 34 S. Dunton, and Dr. Gordon C. Ward, 10 N. Dunton. Another dentist, who deals only in orthodontics is Dr. Vernon R. Boman, 7 W. Campbell.

Patients, themselves, could bring a solution to having to wait three months for a dental appointment, by making a new appointment when they complete their present dental work. This could be from four, six months or one year in advance, depending on how often they needed dental attention. Emergency dental work, on the other hand, can usually be squeezed into any one of these dentist's busy days.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS also has the the services of two optometrists, Dr. Paul C. Geisel, 201 N. Dunton, who has been here more than 30 years, and Dr. Robert H. Balfour, 6 W. Campbell.

Other medical facilities include Dr. George T. Tideman, 307 N. Belmont, naprapath; Dr. James A. Saffold, 6 W. Campbell, chiropodist; and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McElhose, physical therapists, who operate the Arlington Bath and Massage Health Studio, 816 N. Belmont.

Santa Arrives Here Saturday

Will Visit Arlington Stores Every Day, 4-5 And 6-9 P.M.

Arlington Heights is blossoming out with the Christmas spirit. Ornamental lights and decorations, put in place over the week end, are receiving a lot of praise. The two trees that will grace the north and south railroad parks arrived Wednesday and will be ablaze Friday. Carl Weinrich and his committee have done an excellent job.

An effort is being made this year to avoid the usual Christmas fund collection from members of the Chamber of Commerce. However, nonmembers are being given the opportunity to contribute to the kitty. The business men have also been excused from the furnishing of floats for the parade.

Santa will arrive at 2 o'clock Saturday and will be given a big welcome. The high school band will furnish the music and sirens of police and fire department will provide the noise.

In order that dad and mother may have their children at the right place to see Santa, the line of march follows:

Starting at the Big Freeze, Santa and parade will pass down Northwest hwy. to Miner st.; east to Evergreen; north to Eastman; west to Dunton; south to Northwest hwy.; east to State rd.; south to Davis; west on Davis and Campbell to Vail; south to Sigwalt; east to Dunton; north to Davis; west to village hall where Santa will hold court to all who come to greet him.

Santa does not want to miss any child in the Arlington Heights area and will visit local stores every day until December 23 between 4 and 5 o'clock and in the evenings between 6 and 9 o'clock.

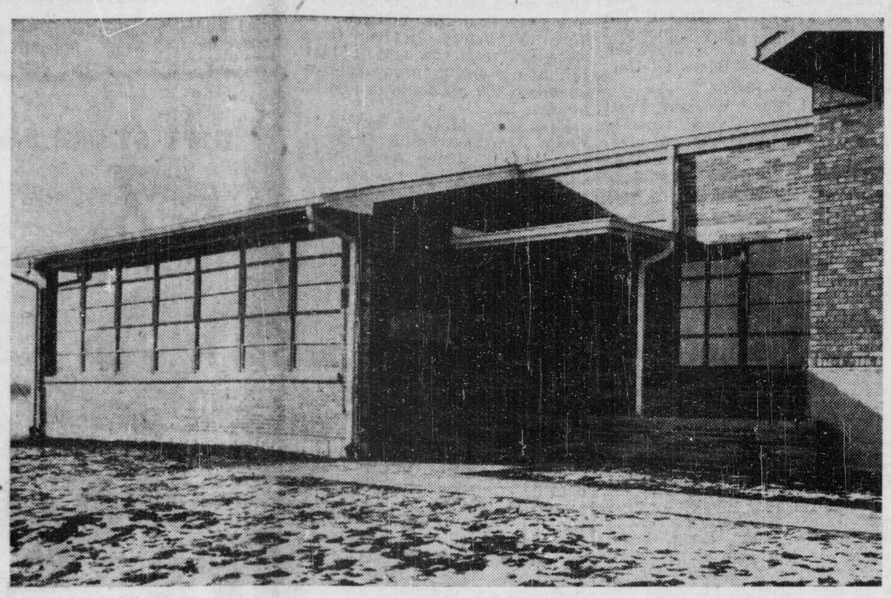
A tour through the Arlington Heights stores Tuesday revealed that they were never better stocked. They are ready for the biggest Christmas business that they have ever enjoyed.

Many who have attempted to make shopping trips to other places have found the parking situation so bad that they have turned back. They will help Santa fill Arlington Heights stockings from Arlington Heights stores. The advertising columns of this issue make selections easy.

With the knowledge that this is the last Christmas season that Arlington postal patrons will be compelled to do business in the present small quarters, they are asked to be patient. "It will be a different story next year, when we occupy our new building," says Mrs. Dodge.

Additional clerks have been hired. The sorting of mail is the big problem. The separation of mail for local delivery from Chicago and out of state will help. Patrons are asked to assist by tying each class into separate packages. Special mail recepticles will be in the post office lobby this week end. The post office will be open Wednesday afternoon and all day Saturday until Christmas.

Business houses who desire to have mail dispatched the same day are asked to have same at the post office not later than 4:30 p.m.



New addition on Wilson school, Palatine rd., which will be dedicated Sunday, at 3 p. m. Guest speaker will be Noble Puffer, Cook county superintendent of schools. —Folkman Photo.

National Group Selects Site At Mt. Prospect After Wide Search

A large tract of land in the northwest suburban area of Chicago has been placed under extended option by the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod as the site for a proposed senior college to be used in training pastors. The choice was made after months of study and investigation of suggested sites all over the United States, including more than 100 possibilities in the greater Chicago area alone.

The location under consideration comprises about 125 acres between Northwest hwy. and Rand rd., just east of Mount Prospect rd. Factors which helped determine the location were proximity to Chicago with its educational and cultural advantages, readily available transportation, general developments in the northwest suburbs, the specific surroundings of the site involved, and the strong Lutheran constituency of the area.

According to Dr. Martin J. Neeb, executive secretary of the board for higher education, the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, the proposed senior college will be planned to accommodate about 400 students in residence.

They will enter the new school from ten junior colleges which the church body now owns and operates throughout the United States and Canada exclusively for ministerial training. Besides meeting the normal requirements of a senior college curriculum, special emphasis would be placed on developing the spiritual maturity and practical competence of the graduates prior to their professional training at Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, Mo.

Costs of the first unit, according to preliminary plans will exceed $3,000,000.

The decision to establish the senior college was originally made at the Centennial convention of 1947 in Chicago and was endorsed by the next general convention of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod in Milwaukee in 1950. The June, 1953, convention of the church body in Houston, Texas is expected to consider and approve final plans and appropriations in time for the scheduled opening of the new school in September, 1955.

The property under option for the college comprises the original Seegers and Oehlerking farms. The Cumberland railroad station will face the property.

Several months of negotiation to acquire the Meyer farm between Mount Prospect and Arlington Heights were not successful.

Part of the tract is within the city of Des Plaines. A large part is within Mount Prospect school district.

Start Work On Mercury Light Installation

The installation "ground work" for the nine mercury lights that are to be erected on S. Dunton was started this week. The contractor is Monroe Electric Co. which is the maintenance firm for traffic and other lights within the business district.

Mr. Stretch of that company said Wednesday that every effort is being made to lay cables and build foundations before a real winter freezeup. The erection of the cement poles can follow at any time. He regrets that he will not be able to have the lights here for the holiday season.

It is expected that as soon as the system is in use other business areas will ask for similar service. Campbell st. merchants are now instituting special assessment proceedings for that purpose.

Arlington Citizens Group Advised To Change Village Government

There is a lot of interest in the village form of municipal government on the part of members of the Arlington Heights Citizens committee, under whose auspices there appeared before that body Wednesday evening DeSota McCabe, Park Ridge city manager and Dr. Rollin Posey, chairman of political science department of Northwestern university and a recognized authority on municipal government.

A member asked Wednesday night if the appointment of a superintendent of public works might be preferable to going all out for the new government. He was told that such an appointment would only be a half step in the right direction.

The group was also told that a sure way to spur Arlington Heights people to a greater interest in municipal government would be hard drawn-out fight for a city manager, whether or not the first election was successful.

The entire evening was devoted to pros of the new form of government. The opposite side may be presented at the next meeting.

A GROUP organizing to explore the possibilities of Council-Manager type of government for Des Plaines has decided to place the proposition before the voters at a special referendum.

A leader of the group said the referendum is being planned for the latter part of January.

Throwing the decision wide open at their second formation meeting, proponents ran into their first real opposition. For more than two hours arguments about the Council-Manager form of government prevailed with most of the time given to the opponents.

MAYOR KENNETH Meyer lashed out at the proposition in a prepared address charging that many of "you who sponsor the managerial form of government are innocently being a party to a Socialistic trend in this country." In his opening remarks he said he is "very suspicious of the motives for which this meeting was called . . . there have been several meetings recently at which care was taken to invite no one who had openly expressed opposition to the managerial form of government."

Meyer, one of a group of four local attorneys who spoke against the proposal, strongly defended his administration and the accomplishments under the present parttime Mayor-Council system. Almost every proponent who spoke at either of the group's first two public meetings has agreed that Meyer and his administration have been noteworthy.

Supt. LeRoy Knoeppel To Serve On March Of Dimes Committee

LeROY KNOEPPEL

William E. Fay and Vernon L. Nickell, co-chairman for the 1953 Illinois March of Dimes, announced the appointment of LeRoy Knoeppel to represent the school administrators of Illinois on the 1953 March of Dimes state committee. Knoeppel is superintendent of Arlington Hts. township high school.

As a member of the committee, Knoeppel is sending out a letter to all the school in Illinois asking their continued support of the March of Dimes. In addition he will be a participant in the program officially opening the 1953 March of Dimes in the Illinois schools which will be heard over Radio Station WLS "School Time" program January 6 from 1:15 to 1:30 p. m.

In accepting the appointment Knoeppel stated, "We in the schools are vitally interested in the welfare of those whom we serve — the children of this state. More than 75% of those stricken with polio are children of school age or under.

"One of the real purposes of the school is to train our students to become good citizens. The March of Dimes gives our students an opportunity to share in civic and community responsibilities and thereby learn the principles involved in good citizenship. It also gives them the satisfaction of knowing they are helping in the solution of a common problem, namely polio. I am sure this approach typifies the democratic way of life as practiced oin America."

The March of Dimes campaign will be conducted January 2 through January 31.

Cook county zoning board of appeals will hold a public hearing at the Palatine village hall, Friday, at 8 p. m., to consider a request from the LaSalle National Bank, trustee, for the rezoning of 537 acres adjacent to the south of the Arlington Park race track. The site is between Wilke and Rohlwing roads.

It is a housing project of Kimball Hill and associates who expect to erect nearly 2,000 homes thereon. They have offered to erect without cost to Consolidated school district No. 15 a school house and to provide a park.

To Dedicate $59,000 Wilson School Addition This Sunday

by MARGARET WALLOR

School district 24 will dedicate the new two room addition to the Wilson school, Palatine rd., Sunday afternoon, Dec. 14, at 3 o'clock. The program will begin with presentation of a nylon flag by the VFW of Arlington Heights, assisted by boy scouts and cub scouts from Wilson school. Arrangements for the flag have been made by Miss Henrietta Klehm.

Invocation will be given by Rev. L. V. Stephan of St. Peter Lutheran church, Arlington Heights. Robert Parsons, principal of Wilson school, will introduce speakers Noble Puffer, Superintendent of Cook county schools, Miss Lucy Driscoll, assistant superintendent and LeRoy J. Knoeppel, superintendent of Arlington Heights high school. Following the benediction by Rev. Stephan, there will be a tour of inspection of the building, after which the PTA will serve refreshments.

The addition was started in the summer of 1951 and completed September, 1952. The architect was James Dvorak of Fox River Grove and Henry C. Meyer, Arlington Heights, was the general contractor.

The old building was remodeled, and two school rooms, principal's office and wash rooms added. New heating and septic systems were installed. Total cost was $59,000. Immediately prior to the bond issue for the building, the school board purchased additional acreage and the school grounds now cover five acres.

WILSON SCHOOL was named for Alexander Wilson who donated a plot of land, 99x165 ft. for the purpose of a school building. A small one room frame structure was erected, and records show that taxes were collected for the school as early as June 6, 1867, when the district was known as No. 5. It was not changed to district number 24 until October 7, 1901.

The one room had stove heat, which was fired by one of the students each morning in order to have the school warm in time for classes. Fred Schoenbeck Sr., of Rand rd., said he had this little chore back in 1893 when Miss Lucy Shepard was the teacher. At that time the service was gratis, but later on when Martin Albrecht went to school, he was paid 10 cents per morning by the school board for performing the chore.

Kerosene lamps furnished the light on dark days, and electricity was not installed until 1928 at which time the electric line was brought to Palatine rd. The windows were barred to discourage tramps, who at that time would break windows to gain entrance to schools for protection from cold.

A BUCKET OF water would be brought from a neighboring farm each morning, placed in the corner of the room with a dipper, to serve as drinking water for the children and teacher. The school could not boast of a well until about 1920, and no plumbing until the old structure was sold at auction, and a new brick building replaced it in 1935.

Records are incomplete, but it is known that Miss Lucy Shepard taught at Wilson school during the 1890's until 1910 and her salary during the last few years of teaching was $40 per month. The enrollment in 1909 consisted of 11 pupils as follows: Oliver Wilson (grandson of Alexander Wilson), Martin Brockman, Meta Meyer, Mathilda Meyer, Herman Meyer, Edwin Meyer, Edwin Clausing, Harold Lippen, Fred Popp, Paul Popp and Harry Becker. Weather played an important part in the number of school days and average daily attendance. The roads were not paved, and Miss Shepard, who lived on Vail st. in Arlington Heights would wear boots in muddy or snowy weather and walk through the fields to the schoolhouse.

It Was 'Pearl Harbor' Day For One Group Of Boys

Sunday, December 7, was a second "Pearl Harbor" for a group of Arlington boys, who raided lighted Christmas trees which Vern Hagenbring had displayed outdoors for the first time that evening.

When Hagenbring recognized the noise of bursting bulbs he gave chase. The first boy captured, of course, did not know a thing about it, and defied Vern to do his worse. Vern accepted the challenge and headed for the police station, where they were joined by two others who had decided confessions were in order.

No charges were preferred, but the boys parted with $8 of their Christmas spending money to purchase new bulbs. It is no secret there were a number of dads who took their sons to the "woodshed."

Chamber of Commerce Cancels December Meet

Community Chest Fund Now Exceeds $16,000; Gerbosi Says 'Thanks'

William A. Gerbosi, chairman of the Arlington Heights Community fund issued this statement Monday:

"May I take this opportunity to express my thanks and appreciation to all of the people of Arlington Heights for the support they have given their Community Chest. In view of the very short time which we had to organize our first drive, I believe we did a lot better than we had a right to expect. For our good initial result we must thank the many workers who gave generously of their time.

Collections for the Community Chest now total $16,055.66, and with the additional collections in sight, it seems fairly certain that Arlington's initial drive will total $16,500. This represents approximately 85% of its budgeted goal, and leaves about $3,100 still to be raised.

Your committee will continue its efforts to reach our objective and with the help and generous support of the people of Arlington Heights, we should go over the top.

To each and every one of the workers we want to express our deep appreciation."

Editor's note: — A full list of the workers will appear in next week's issue.

Plan Commission And Board Agree Early Action Needed

There was a lot of plain talk Tuesday evening between members of Arlington Heights village board and six members of the plan commission.

The better part of the evening was spent in a discussion of the procedure that should be followed in carrying out the various phases of the Stanton and Rockwell master plan report. Willard Walters, chairman of the commission stated that targets at which to shoot were first necessary, the setting of a time limit, then work to meet that schedule.

Trustee Zimmerman said the village board wanted to see action, but the first step must be a study as to how to activate the Stanton and Rockwell report. Trustee Edward Carlisle drew attention of members to the fact that a year had been consumed in planning and a study by a combined action committee was now needed. He said Arlington should not break up the plan into too many pieces.

Mayor Albert Goedke said a good start could be made by instituting a street widening project with lights.

Attorney Hugo Thal was in accord with the thought that off-street parking should be part of the widening project, which he thought was of first importance.

MEMBERS OF BOTH bodies were told that petitions are now being circulated among owners of Campbell st. property, asking for the widening and installation of street lights on that street from Evergreen to Chestnut.

During the discussion that followed Walters said the business men and residents of the village should realize the recommendations of the planning engineers are within the realm of possibility and plans must be made for the orderly growth of the village.

Speakers agreed the chamber of commerce should be asked to enter the picture.

Attorney Thal said he could not find any authority in the statute books that would permit the establishment of a parking authority to take over the parking problem on a revenue basis. It would primarily be a job for the village. Those present agreed parking meters must become a part of any project that is not handled by special assessment.

Subcommittees will be comprised of committee members of the board and individual plan commission members who made special studies of various phases of the engineer's report.

Dedicate Wilson School —

Board meetings were held annually instead of monthly, at which time a new director would be voted in and any necessary business transacted. For instance, in 1911 William Kehe was voted in as director, and the minutes show that it was voted to purchase a clock, and mop the floor twice a year.

SCHOOL YEARS varied from seven to nine months. Enrollment fluctuated greatly every few years. As previously stated, enrollment in 1909 was 11, but in 1918 there were only four pupils. By 1935 there was a big increase, when 49 students attended.

Basket socials were popular in the early 1900's as money-making projects and the records stated that in 1914 a basket social was held to raise money to put slats on the seats. This was done to make them easier to move about.

A census of the district was taken frequently. In 1909 there were 122 residents, and in 1921, 131. At present, there are approximately 1,000 residents in district number 24.

Miss Mary McLeod (now Mrs. Victor Reed of Arlington Heights), who taught at the school from 1912 until 1917, believes she was the first to give a Christmas program in the schoolhouse. Everyone cooperated by bringing additional kerosene lamps, and the program was complete with a Christmas tree lighted with wax candles, and a mechanical music box to furnish music. She also stated that farmers would bring seed corn and oats to be tested by the school children for fertility. Since the pupils were probably potential farmers, this was no doubt considered essential to their education.

WHEN THE LITTLE school became overcrowded, it was replaced in 1935 by a brick building, consisting of one large room that could be divided by portable partitions to make two small classrooms. The building had a basement and plumbing, and was considered one of the finest rural schools in the area. The cost of the structure was about $6,000, and at that time school board members were Martin Albrecht, Fred Jaquet and Henry Brockman. In 1936, 56 pupils were enrolled, and for the first time it was necessary to hire two teachers.

Many of our citizens have served on the school board, and among them were Chris Niemeyer, Diedrick Heideman (both in 1893) William Kehe, Louis Hogreve, Fred Jaquet, Henry Brockman, Martin Albrecht, Martin Hahnfeldt, L. Niemeyer, W. E. Meier, Ed Hogreve, Robert Wendorf, Fred A. Meier, E. A. Kirchhoff, Geo. F. Meyer, Walter Hetzke, Martin Meier, Louis Maierhoefer, Henry Hahnfelt, Art Guenther and Herbert Rickert. Present board members are Harold Best, Art Schroeder and Richard Hurlburt.

The following is a list of teachers dating from 1909 until the present: Lucy Shepard, Jessie Dean, Mary M. McLeod (Mrs. V. Reed), Doris Ward, Dorothy Mood, Mrs. W. Williams, Lola C. Brandon, Ruth A. Beardsley, Adelaide Beardsley, Lillian Puffer, Hazel Mayers, Nell Jacob, Dorotha Stroker (Mrs. Herman Carr), Lucille Oldfield, Ruth Howell, Lillian Skarloz, Lena Allison, Naomi Rapp, Kenneth Stroker, Clarence Brown, Mrs. Dorothy Peterson, Francis Rice, Leona Palmer, B. J. Friedman, Mrs. A. Magnussen, Miss Ruth Paulus, Miss Henrietta Klehm, Mrs. Kincaid and Robert Parsons.

All the past and present board members and teachers are extended a special invitation to attend the dedication of the new building.

Robert G. Platt Buys Schwanke Residence

The Robert G. Platts of River Forest recently purchased the Frank R. Schwanke ranch home in Scarsdale Estates. Mr. Platt is president of the Century Display manufacturing company of Chicago.

The Platts, together with their three children, Ken, Marylinn, and Bonnie Jean, plan to be in Arlington in time to enjoy the holiday season in their new home. Charles H. Wilson, realtor, states this was one of the top figure residential transaction in Arlington Heights this year.

North Cook 4-H Club Fair Elects Officers

Louis W. Pohlman was re-elected president of North Cook County 4-H Club Fair association at its annual meeting last week. Other officers are William Linnemann, vice-president; Stephen Csandi, secretary; Arthur W. Franzen, treasurer. Other directors are Henry Eichholz, Emil Bartels and Roy Hecht.

The 1952 fair was the most successful in its history. An additional amount has been invested in government bonds and $1,000 has been sent to the support of the 4-H club camp, Shaw-wau-nas-see, near Kankakee. Cook county's quota over a ten year period for the camp is $13,000. South Cook county will duplicate the $1,000 payment this year made by the north end.

Yule Program To Highlight PTA Meeting

One of the year's most popular meetings of the Arlington Hts. PTA is coming up next week. Tuesday, December 16, at 8:15 p. m., the annual Christmas program will be presented in the South school auditorium by the students of the Junior high school.

OPENING WITH a torchlight processional by a chorus of 90 boys and girls, a series of scenes from Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" will be portrayed. The cast for these has been announced as follows:

Narrators — Judy Skahill, Deanna Ziebell; Carollers — Jill Giuliani, Pam Buttenob, Kathy Day, Ted Benson; Bob Cratchit — Kent Petelle. Scrooge — Alex Catherwood; Fred — Bob Siegel; Marley — Bill Hogate; Ghost of Christmas Past — Carol Leihy.

Ghost of Christmas Present — Barbara Jahnke; Ghost of Christmas Future — Kathy Miller; Mr. Fezziwig — John Petersen; Ebenezer — Dwight Pate; Dick — Bill White; Kings — Joan Edmonds, Joanne Miller, Marilyn Miller; Mary — Mary Collins; Joseph — James Golden.

Mrs. Fezziwig — Carol Lunsmann; Fiddler — Joan Edmonds; Three little Fezziwigs — Linda Hackbarth, Jeanne Johnson, Joan Anderson; Three friends of Fezziwigs — Bob Shriner, Richard Klages, Jim Kaspar; Housemaid — Sharon Monjeau; Baker — Dianne Alexander; Cook — Jeanne Atwood; Milkman — Ted Benson.

Older Girl — Joanne Miller; Little Boy — Larry Kellog; Tiny Tim — Jerry Kouzmanoff; Mother — Judy Goble; Gentlemen — Dwight Pate, Bill White.

WOVEN THROUGHOUT the scenes will be Christmas carols, sung by the chorus. Backstage, Judy Goble will manage props, and lighting will be done by Bob Siegel and Bill Hogate. Donna Jehrke is in charge of costumes.

The program, and the meeting, will close with the torchlight recessional by the chorus. Due to the number of children present and the lateness of the hour on a "school night," no refreshments will be served.

CIRCLING THE TOWN
BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

Instead of simply a "getting" Christmas the 37 children of Sherwood subdivision have decided this should be a "giving" holiday, and they've planned a bazaar Saturday afternoon to aid orphans at the Bensenville home.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Max E. Hagen and other ladies of the subdivision, the children have done their own work, decorating, assembling items for sale and making fancy work. The bazaar will be held at the Hagen home, 1025 Watling rd., from 1 to 6 p.m. Saturday.

The youngest set, kindergarteners, will offer a white elephant booth with various items for the home. The seven-to-nine group is offering candy for sale.

Quite a rivalry has sprung up between the older boys and girls —the girls have supplied and decorated the fancy work booth. There are hand-woven pot holders, aprons, and table-size Christmas trees they have decorated.

The boys, on the other hand, will divide their talents. They are producing a puppet show to be given every hour on the half hour at which they will sell popcorn. The book and comic book booth will also be manned by these youngsters. Used comics will be sold for two cents each, and, will, parents fear, merely exchange hands. Any books or comics left over will be given to the orphans. These same boys will also sell homemade cake and coffee to visitors at a nominal fee.

Proceeds from the bazaar will be used to buy record players for children at the home. These players will be used at the bedside of the boys and girls when they are sick.

The Sherwood youngsters have also collected and repaired a large number of toys and contributed a quantity of outgrown clothing all in good condition. The children of Sherwood hope that people from all over the village will come to their bazaar Saturday.

Christmas in the Air

The weather earlier this week may belie the fact, but it is true, nevertheless, that Christmas is but two weeks off. The Chamber of Commerce is one organization that doesn't let balmy spring-like breezes make it forget the season.

The decorative lights and evergreen boughs and ribbons are up around town, adding a holiday air, and Santa arrives in Arlington Heights this Saturday at 2:30 p.m. All young children are invited to be present to welcome him as he rides down the main streets.

Entries for the Chamber's outdoor decorating contest must be in by next Tuesday afternoon, and they will be judged the following Friday evening. Cash prizes will be awarded on the basis of originality, composition and general attractiveness.

The music department at the high school "gets into the act" with their annual Christmas concert Sunday, at 4 p.m. Tickets are free but must be obtained in advance.

From then on, it's simply a parade from one Christmas activity to the next.

Richard Keogh Dies In Hospital

Richard E. Keogh, 56, husband of Mrs. Betty Keogh, Prospect Heights postmaster, died Tuesday night at St. Joseph hospital, Elgin. Funeral arrangements are not complete, but services will be held at Scott's Funeral Home, 1416 Sherman ave., Evanston.

A resident of Prospect Heights 13 years, Mr. Keogh was associated with the law firm of O'Brien, Hanrahan and Keogh in Chicago.

Power Steering on the Roadmaster and Super

Television treat — the BUICK CIRCUS HOUR — every fourth Tuesday

How would you like the fun of Christmastime to last all the year through?

That's the way it seems to be when you call this Buick beauty your own—what with the constant cheer it brings to you week after week, month after month.

The cheer of traveling in style that's bright and gay as a holiday wrapping.

The cheer of having rich and spacious comfort—plus the cheery thought that nowhere else can you get as much room for the money.

The cheer of knowing abundant and mighty able power is on call, with all the solid thrift of a Fireball 8 Engine that's valve-in-head—and also high-compression.

The cheer of riding wonderfully buoyant, level and steady—with a ride that feels like the million dollars it cost to perfect.

The cheer of taking your travel free and easy—with Dynaflow Drive* doing the chores in letter-perfect smoothness—with Power Steering assisting to make parking and slow-motion maneuvers no task at all.

Even the price is a cheerful note here—low enough, you'll find, to crowd the so-named "low-price three."

That means action is called for this very week, to make the most of this good deal while it lasts.

Why not drop in today or tomorrow and see how much cheer is to be found in a Buick showroom right now?

*Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series. Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster and Super only.

PLANNING FOR PARENT CONFERENCES IN THE JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

by RUSSELL H. SAVAGE

The holding of parent conferences in the Junior high school presents a somewhat different problem for the teachers than do the conferences held by the leaders of the kindergarten through fifth grade. With the possible exception of music, the teachers of the latter group handle the teaching of all the subject matter areas and therefore are intimately acquainted with the academic achievement, emotional adjustment toward the subject, and the reason for outstanding as well as retarded progress in the various areas.

However, the Junior high school homeroom teachers, who hold the parent conferences, are responsible only for the teaching of language arts and social studies. The language arts include reading, writing, spelling, and oral and written language skills. Arithmetic, science, music, manual training, art, home economics and physical education are taught by other teachers, which means that a pupil's all-around progress in school is not as thoroughly understood by a Junior high school teacher as would be true in the case of a teacher in the kindergarten through fifth grade schools.

IN ORDER TO overcome this difficulty and to be able to present an over-all picture of the pupils' progress in Junior high school, the homeroom teachers held meetings each day for a period of two weeks before the conferences to discuss the following topics with the teachers who had their homeroom pupils in the other subject matter areas: (1) academic progress, (2) social adjustment with his own small group of friends and with the class as a whole, (3) emotional adjustment as viewed in various situations, (4) the degree of physical and maturational growth evidenced.

Following the meeting, the homeroom teacher pulled together all the information obtained and prepared a report to be given to the parent at the time of the conference. Should it seem advisable that the parent meet with one or more of the teachers of the other subject matter areas, such a conference would be arranged at a time convenient to both parent and teacher. Should there be reason for further conferences betwen the homeroom teacher and the parents, such meetings would be planned at the time of the original conference.

IN THE JUNIOR high school program the homeroom teacher is the key figure in the guidance program, and is responsible for the over-all guidance program of each of the pupils in his or her section. It seems logical, therefore, that the homeroom teacher should be the one to coordinate the pupil's program throughout his school experience. Should a pupil be in need of guidance or counseling in any area, such a plan would be worked out jointly by the homeroom teacher, the teacher of the special subject matter area, the guidance director, the principal, the parent, and, if needed, the visiting counselor.

It is hoped through this type of homeroom organization, no matter how large the Junior high school may become, each pupil will still receive the benefits of close personal contact with a teacher who knows the pupil's problems quite thoroughly and can confer intelligently at least twice during the year with each parent.

Former Arlington Man Receives Second Oak Leaf Cluster In Okinawa

First. Lt. Lewis G. Helm, son of Howard Helm, former Wheeling township clerk, now living in California, and a brother of Mrs. George Hauff, present township clerk, has again been decorated by the air force.

Lt. Helm recently received the second Oak Leaf cluster to his air medal during a ceremony at Okinawa. Lewis was a navigator in World War II and after being released at the close of that war, joined the active reserve.

About 18 months ago, he was called back to active service and was assigned to the 19th bomb group based at Okinawa, from which base he has made 22 bombing missions over Korea.

Lt. Helm is scheduled to return soon to his home at St. Joseph, Mo., where his wife, son and daughter are awaiting his arrival.

CORRECTION

In a recent article covering the Northeast-Northwest district, Illinois Association of Student Councils convention held at Arlington Heights township high school, it was erroneously stated that George Caruso, Hinsdale high school, was elected first vice-president. It should have read: Ron Johnson, Calumet high school, Chicago, was elected first vice-president.

Christmas! What a magic word, and one that thrills the hearts of young and old. The smell of pine is prevalent within the walls of your library these days, and all will enjoy the beauty of the tall, stately Christmas tree with its bright lights, gleaming tinsel and ornaments.

Already happy hours spent in the library will be brightened by its presence for the next few weeks. Through the courtesy of the Friends of the Library committee of the Arlington Heights Woman's club the tree was presented to the library, and trimmed by members of that committee.

IN ADDITION to the fine collection of Christmas books, which readers have enjoyed each Christmas season, the following new books are now available: "The Christmas Promise," "The Santa Claus Bears," "Rudolph, the Red-Nosed Reindeer," "Paddy's Christmas," "The Golden Christmas Book," "A Book of Christmas Stories for Children," "Saint Santa Claus," "Santa Claus Book" and "The Animals' Merry Christmas." "One Red for Christmas," by Paul Morgan, is a novel about the kind of love that came into the world at Bethlehem.

So that all may enjoy the reading of the Christmas stories, all Christmas books are seven-day books, and each reader may have one Christmas book at a time.

OTHER NEW books on your library shelves:

On the rental shelf: "Whetstone Walls" by Lella Warren. From the red-clay roads of backwoods Alabama, through the grueling grind of Tulane's medical school, to the swirling gaiety of New Orleans' Mardi Gras, Lella Warren has told a vividly tapestried story.

"This Land I Hold" by Virginia Myers. Magdalena Estrada was in for a series of shocks when she first came back to Los Angeles. Her godparents had kept her for 15 years in a convent in Mexico, where she had been given a lady's education. The story has suspense, force, impact and surprise—the kind of book that makes the reader race to keep up with his interest.

For the mystery fan there are four new novels: Ellery Queen's 25th and most unusual mystery novel "The Origin of Evil." "Death in Dwelly Lane" by F. V. Morley; "Flight into Peril" by Douglas Rutherford and "The Bahamas Murder Case" by Leslie Ford.

For the sports enthusiasts: Tennis, golf and sports photo album; a timely new book for holiday entertaining: "Toll House Tried and True Recipes." Two new biographies: the "Marshall Story" and "Thomas: Rock of Chickamauga." A new book on "State Birds and Flowers" and "A Baby is Born."

FOR THE TEEN-AGER: "The Organdy Cupcakes," "Wapita, the Elk," "Along Janet's Road," "Summer for Seven," "Skyblazer," "Rustlers on the High Range" and "First and Ten." The fourth through eighth grader will enjoy the following: "A Tippy Canoe and Canada Too," "Too Much Salt and Pepper," "Seven Secrets of Somewhere Lake" (all new books by Sam Campbell). "Capture of the Golden Stallion," "Ginny and Custard," "Island Girl," "Pennywink Carnival," "Little Vic," "Lost Horse," "Snow Cloud," (how they love the horse stories); "The Princess and the Goblin."

The small-fry have their share of new books also: "Danny Boy, the Gray-Nosed Kitten," "The Super-Duper Car," "The Double Birthday Present," "Snowshoe Paws," "Big Lonely Dog," "Adventures of Johnny Chuck," "Bumblebuzz," "The Buttons Go Walking," "Buffalo Bill," "Mother Penny," "Bambino the Clown," "The Restless Robin."

For the language student ther are three new dictionaries: English-French, French, English English-Spanish, Spanish-Englisl and the new Handy Latin-English, English Latin.

Bear, Deer To Be Special Attraction At Tree Stand

An enormous bear, weighing more than 500 pounds, and a "red nosed" reindeer will be on display at the Carlsen and Shuman Christmas tree stand at Northwest hwy. and Dunton ave., Arlington Heights, this week end.

Schuman "captured" the animals on a recent hunting trip in the North woods and will display them this week end only. Any boy or girl who would like to have his picture taken beside the ferocious looking bear or the "distant cousin" of Rudolph, the red-nosed reindeer, should bring his camera along when he comes to view the animals.

A&P To Open Self Service Meats This Week

The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company is introducing self service meats at its Arlington Heights super market this week.

The formal opening of the ultra-modern meat department at 114 W. Campbell takes place at 9 o'clock Thursday morning when 1,000 plastic aprons will be distributed to the first 1,000 ladies who visit the streamlined "store of tomorrow."

A SPOKE SMAN for A&P pointed out the new meat department will completely eliminate the long delays and waiting of the old type meat section. He said all meats will be cut, weighed, packaged, labeled and priced before being displayed in the self-service cases.

He also said professional meat cutters and wrappers will be at work all day in the newly-installed cutting and wrapping rooms in order to assure shoppers of continuous fresh supplies of choice and prime meats, the only grades distributed by A&P.

UNIQUE FEATURE of the meat department will be a system of communication between the store and the cutting room whereby shoppers, unable to find the exact cut they want, can order directly from the meat cutters according to specification.

"It's the latest thing in meats," said Manager John Andrews, "and I'm certain our friends in Arlington Heights will like it. We'll offer the same fine meats—but we shall give it to our customers without the long delays of the past. Now they can select their meats as fast as they can a pound of butter."

ALSO ON OPENING day, every 250th customer will be awarded a basket of groceries. Friday 500 dozen free doughnuts will be given early visitors to the store. Saturday there will be 1,000 free balloons for youngsters.

Manager Andrews issued a cordial invitation to all residents of Arlington Heights and surrounding areas to come in and inspect the new meat department.

Arlington Post Office Open Wednesdays And Saturdays Next Week

The Arlington Heights post office will be open all day Wednesday and Saturday December 13, 17 and 20.

Mayors Meet To Plan War Strategy Against Chicago

Suburban Cook county has no standing army, but a special committee of Tri-County Home Rule association is meeting this week to outline the strategy of the coming battle against Chicago when the Greater Chicago plan is presented to the state legislature.

Mayor G. D. Wilson, Skokie, who is president of the association, stated Tuesday his committee will formulate definite recommendations to be presented to the Tri-County organization.

IN COMMENTING on the seriousness of the situation he said, "If we allow Chicago to get one little foothold into our area the door will soon be open for greater inroads against home rule. Attractive promises of toll roads sounds well, but it is what may come afterwards that we are worrying about.

"If a Greater Chicago Area becomes a corporate body, remember that Chicago voting strength would engulf any opposition the suburban areas might form."

Farm Adviser Mees, Arlington Heights, told a reporter the farm organization is watching the situation and in all probability definite steps will be taken in January to rally farm interests of the northeast counties to aid the Tri-County Home Rule association to kill any bill that may be presented by Chicago "experts" that would enlarge the power of the big city.

The tri-county group is expected to also oppose the plan of Chicago for a payroll tax which would apply to residents of other towns, who are employed in Chicago.

Girl Scout News

Mrs. W. W. Osborn of Wilmette has been hired as a professional girl scout worker in the new area office in Cumberland, located on Wolf rd., between rte. 58 and Northwest hwy. Miss Marion Hodgins of Arlington Heights will be the functional director in charge of Hickory Hill camp, Rice Lake, Wis., in January. This camp is for Arlington Heights girl scouts.

Every registered girl scout adult, including leaders, troop committee member and board members, is asked to attend the January 29 meeting at the Congregational church in Des Plaines. At this time the slate of officers for the Northwest Cook County council will be elected and presented.

The group will also vote on the constitution, by-laws and budget. A letter will be mailed before that time to every registered girl scout adult.

Mrs. Bruce Corbett's Arlington Heights girl scout troop 7 received square dance instructions November 13 from Miss Martha Craig and Miss Elaine England, instructors of physical education at Arlington Heights township high school. This is in preparation for their folk dance badge.

Legion Supports 'Gifts For Yanks Who Gave' Program

To provide Christmas presents for disabled veterans and hospitalized servicemen, the Arlington Heights American Legion post is participating in the ninth annual "Christmas Gifts to Yanks Who Gave" program of the Illinois American Legion.

The object of the drive is to insure at least one gift for each of the more than 15,000 patients in 43 Illinois hospitals and institutions. Many are veterans of the Korean war. A total of $47,485.35 was spent for gifts alone by the Illinois Legion last year and $20,000 by posts and units who delivered gifts direct to hospitals.

All funds donated to the "Yanks Who Gave" are used for the purchase of gifts only. The entire administrative cost of the program is borne by the American Legion from general funds.

For gift donations the Legion asks that they contain the donor's name and address for later acknowledgement and be plainly marked male or female. Not acceptable are razor blades, candy, food, knives, matches or second hand articles of any description. Gift packages may be delivered to the Legion home, 122 N. Douglas, any Thursday evening.

Merle Guild Post 208 has placed containers for cash contributions in many Arlington Heights business houses. Checks payable to the American Legion, Department of Illinois, marked "Gifts to Yanks" may be sent to Dr. R. H. Balfour, 6 W. Campbell st., Arlington Heights.

Pastry

All pastry should be rolled very lightly to guard against toughness. Use as little flour as possible.

Village Theatre Meeting At Field House Thursday

Village Theatre members will discuss the coming Children's play, which is to be held in February, at their meeting tonight, Thursday, at the Arlington Heights field house, at 8 o'clock.

Following the business meeting a group from the talent bank will present a one-act play for the enjoyment of members. Refreshments will be served.

Anyone interested in joining the players group is invited to attend the meeting.

Free Show To Be Yule Gift For Heights Kids

Arlington Heights boys and girls of elementary school age will be given a special treat December 23.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Knapp, managers of the Arlington Theatre, and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Horath, who operate Horath's Shell service station, will be hosts at a special holiday show. All youngsters will be admitted free.

Details as to the time and what movie will be shown will be published next week.

Library Gets Gifts From Palmer Estate

The new Arlington Heights library has recently received some valuable gifts from the estate of Robert F. Palmer, who died June 16. Before his death he expressed a wish that some of his estate be used as a gift to the community where he enjoyed the last 25 years of his life.

THE CHOICE of the gift and the recipient were left in the hands of his daughter, Mrs. Tracy S. Voorhees, Brooklyn, N. Y., who was his only heir. Due to her father's life-long interest in good books, Mrs. Voorhees decided a gift to the new library would be most appropriate. She has, therefore, contributed practically all of her father's fine personal collection of valuable books, and the davenport that was in his living room. She has also made gifts in his memory of two beautiful pictures that now hang in the library reception room, and a complete new set of the latest edition of the Encyclopedia Brittanica.

The library was not a donation to the town as many public libraries are. The taxpayers are paying for it and such gifts as these are not only a splendid gesture on the part of the giver, but are sincerely appreciated.

36 Families Move To Heights During November

If the new family arrivals in Arlington Heights continue at the present pace, census figures on the village population signs should be revised.

During the month of November, Mrs. A. Conger, the official "Greeter" of Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce, called upon 36 new families and the population figure jumped 125.

School board officials will be interested to know that only 12 of the families represented consisted of just man and wife. Two families have six members. There are six families of five, and 13 families of four.

With an occasional exception, the new arrivals are residents of the newer residential sections of the municipality.

The Chamber of Commerce welcoming service not only introduces newcomers to local business stores, but also bids them welcome to the village.

John P. Anderson

Funeral services were held December 9 for John P. Anderson, 73, route 2, Arlington Hts., at the chapel, 5844-48 Milwaukee ave., Chicago, at 2 p. m. Interment Acacia Park cemetery.

Mr. Anderson died December 5 in the Libertyville hospital.

He leaves his wife, Katherine; a daughter, Dorothy Michelini; three grandchildren, and three sisters, Esther Johnson, Elizabeth Dean and Annie Irwin.

Orders Prison Sentence For Arlington Sex Offender

Judge Charles S. Dougherty in Chiminal court last week sentenced James Rapp, 20, of the Airport Trailer camp near Arlington Heights, to three terms of 1 to 14 years in the penitentiary on two sex charges and one robbery charge. The sentences are concurrent.

Rapp, charged with assault with intent to rape a 17 year old girl and a 20 year old woman, and with robbery of a minister's wife, was branded a menace to society by Judge Dougherty, who refused to consider leniency.

Called bad risk

"This man has animalistic sex tendencies," Judge Dougherty said. "He is a sex deviate, a bad risk, and a menace to the community. I'm giving him the maximum penalty. It will be up to the parole board to determine when he should be released on society. Maybe psychiatry can help him."

Rapp was arrested August 24 after he knocked down and robbed Mrs. Cathryn Dawe, wife of the Rev. Garfield Dawe of the Ravenswood Methodist church, while she was waiting to board a train at the North Western railway station at 4532 Ravenswood ave. He also threatened to rape her.

Rapp later confessed the attempted rape of a girl on Higgins rd. and of a 20 year old woman in the vestibule of a north side building, where he forced her to disrobe. He pleaded guilty to the three charges.

$500,000 Is Objective For Completion Of Resurrection Hospital

John W. Carroll, president of the Pickwick Papers, Park Ridge, has been named general chairman of the Resurrection hospital public relations committee.

Carroll's appointment was made by Irving T. Gillick who is chairman of the Resurrection fund campaign. The drive is for a minimum of $500,000 to complete the new 190-bed $4,000,000 hospital on Talcott road west of Harlem.

A committee of northwest suburban publishers, daily newspaper representatives, and radio and television personalities are assisting Carroll with the publicity program.

At a recent meeting of the committee held at Tam O'Shanter country club, Carroll said, "There are just a few basic facts about Resurrection that all of us need to understand.

"First, there are 281,000 people without a hospital in this section. The need is great.

"Second, nobody owes us a hospital. It's a matter of individual responsibility," continued Carroll who is president of the Illinois Press Association.

"Third, real generous sacrificial giving from individuals and corporations will be required if our $500,000 objective is to be reached," Carroll concluded.

Favorites for Flavor

By Lois Seiler

Cranberry Bread — the perfect accompaniment for your turkey dinner Christmas day — is today's feature.

The recipe for this delightful holiday bread is shared with us by Mrs. Ervin Westfahl of 1525 N. Vail, Arlington Heights. Festive in appearance, with its gay dots of red cranberries, the bread is also flavored with orange juice and rind. Chopped nuts can be added if desired.

There is little fuss involved in making this bread as it is not a yeast dough, but is similar to banana bread in texture. It has a tart yet sweet taste, and can be served with butter if you so wish.

The contributor of this recipe, who, incidentally, has the reputation of being a good cook, is the president of St. Peter's Mothers' club. Mrs. Westfahl is also active in St. Peter's Couples' club and sings in the church choir.

The Westfahls have three children: Barbara, 10, and Scott, 7, who attend St. Peter's school, and Steven, 7 months.

Cranberry Bread

2 cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon soda
1 cup sugar
1 cup raw cranberries
1 egg, beaten
1 orange
2 tablespoons melted Crisco
Boiling water
Nuts (optional)

Sift the dry ingredients together. Wash and cut cranberries in quarters, lengthwise.

Place orange juice and rind in a measuring cup. Add crisco and fill up to the one-cup measure with boiling water. Mix this mixture with the dry ingredients, then add the beaten egg, cranberries and chopped nutmeats.

Mix at low speed just long enough to get the dough well blended.

Bake in a loaf pan, 4½ by 9½ inches, one hour in 325 degree oven. Makes one loaf.

CHRISTMAS

The earth has grown old with its burden of care,
But at Christmas it always is young.

—Phillips Brooks

At this immortal hour, all human hate, pride, greed, lust should bow and declare Christ's power, and the reign of Truth and Life divine should make man's being pure and blest.

—Mary Baker Eddy

Heap on more wood!—the wind is chill;
But let it whistle as it will.
We'll keep our Christmas merry still.

Ladies At Lutheran Home Get New Christmas Hairdos

Nothing like a new hairdo to raise the spirits of a lady, and this saying is no exception at the Lutheran Home and Service for the Aged, Arlington Heights. Monday nearly 30 of the women residents were given permanents, cuts and curls by beauty operators from Alfred Martin Hairdressing Salon, Arlington Heights.

This is the second time this year the Martin staff has packed up its gear and beauty aids and traveled up to the Home to give the ladies a treat. The first time was just before Mother's day, and Mr. Martin, shop proprietor, said he and his staff will make these two trips an annual affair.

"Our shop is closed Mondays," said Martin, "and everyone of my staff was more than happy to give up his day off to help in this Christmas 'gift' for the ladies at the Home."

Future plans by Martin include the installation of beauty parlor equipment in the new Home and Service for the Aged now under construction on Oakton st., Arlington Heights. This will enable members of my staff, a local barber of employees of other beauty parlors to come up and give the residents a treat any time during the year. Even the men residents can use the tonsorial parlors to keep pace with the ladies.

"You just can't imagine how much the women appreciate this," said Rev. John Kempf, Home director, "and in their behalf, as well as my own, I wish to thank the Martin staff for this wonderful gesture."

The bride, given in marriage by Ray Little, wore a gown of white lace and tulle over satin, and she carried a bouquet of white camellias.

Presenting The Younger Generation

Jet Propelled?

The first in today's grouping of little folks is Dennis Bakula, 19 month old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bakula of 829 N. Walnut, Arlington Heights.

This blond and blue-eyed little boy is a bundle of energy. "I just can't keep up with him," were his mother's words of description. All of Dennis' toys rate second to the vacuum cleaner. "He loves to play with it," said Mrs. Bakula, "and thinks it should be going all the time."

Dennis has a big sister, Mrs. Louis Baulet, who is the mother of his little niece, pictured next. Mrs. Joseph Bakula of Chicago is his only grandparent.

Cynthia Jean

A pretty name for a pretty miss. Cynthia Jean is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Baulet also of 829 N. Walnut, Arlington Heights. She is 3 years old, has brown hair, and bluish-brown eyes.

Dolls are her favorite toys and all types of miniature kitchen appliances are her requests from Santa Claus this Christmas. Cynthia hasn't any sisters or brothers but has a big time with her "little" uncle Dennis.

Grandparents of Cynthia Jean are Mr. and Mrs. William Bakula of Arlington Heights and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Baulet from New Orleans. Great grandmother is Mrs. Joseph Bakula of Chicago.

An Old Dolly

This sweet blonde and blue-eyed little miss is Susan Cameron, 2 year old daughter of Mr and Mrs. James Cameron of Dundee rd., Palatine.

This busy little girl is quite a talker and has a large vocabulary, informed Mrs. Cameron. Dolls are her favorite playthings and an old 10 year old doll is always favored to the newer ones. Susan wants only a doll bed for Christmas and is hoping Santa doesn't forget that one wish. Next is Susan's baby sister, Linda.

Personality Baby

Linda Cameron is a bustling little 1 year old. She has light brown hair and blue eyes. "Linda can walk, but prefers crawling to walking as she gets around much faster," commented Mrs. Cameron. This little one's main characteristic is her ability to make up to everyone reputing her to be a personality baby.

Grandparents of the children are Mr. and Mrs. George Howes of 248 N. Bothwell, Palatine, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cameron of Shoenbeck rd., Arlington Hts.

Make Your Home Festive For Holidays With Flowers In Style-Setting Arrangements

It's soon time to deck the halls with fresh flowers and the Christmas-y decoratives the florists are assembling in their shops—the pines and spruces from northern woods; boxwoods from stately hedges in the deep south; hollies from Oregon, mistletoe from Texas.

The scene this year can be excitingly different. Bold new arrangements get their clear silhouettes from real roses, carnations or chrysanthemums, each expressing age-old legends associated with the Christmas story. Fresh flowers in their complementary colors can be added to the decorative scheme in their own containers, or combined with the green and ornaments.

The trick there is a water-absorbing, snow-like material that holds the flower stems and provides the needed moisture. The fresh flowers go into the arrangement the eve of the holiday.

Many of the decorations get their Christmas themes from foam blocks which are easily cut in ingenious shapes — as wreaths, stars, placques, sleighs, churches — any conceivable size or form. Simplest and highly effective is the rectangular block-form used as a functional base for a table or buffet arrangement in its natural white or sprayed by the florist in the darker colors.

CUT BRANCHES in green or flocked in white or pastels, are stemmed directly into the material. The tips and sprays of pine, spruce, cedar and hemlock may be covered with clinging "snow" and some of it has drifted realistically to the cones and ribbons and other ornaments. These have all been flameproofed by the flocking process.

The simulated snow provides vivid settings for the florists accessories: Reindeers, Santas, Madonnas, churches, pipe organs, metallic foils, Christmas balls, evergreen cones, tree ornaments, figurines, beads, manaznita boughs and, of course, candles — fat candles or thin tapers; perhaps a novel, oversize candle that glows in the dark.

TELEVISION receivers for the focal points of the decorations, vie this year with mantles, tables and windows. A large brandy snifter filled with red sweetheart roses stemmed in water-absorbed Sno-Pak was suggested at a recent decorating forum; tiny skier glided over the snow-like surface. For a console, a pottery horse was filled with twelve red carnations, white pine branches and sugar cones.

In selecting your decorations, the florists said, keep in mind their intended locations. They should never be allowed to crowd the spaces they ocupy.

For a small occasional table, try curving effects and use a substantial container that won't be easily upset. S-curve designs were recommended for dining tables or low bowls; snowballs were simulated by white chrysanthemums tied to greens reclining on the tables. An interesting cocktail arrangement had its holiday theme in a foam block covered with red-flocked paper, white pine sprays, huge green candles, white carnations and a plastic rooster.

THE FORUM'S variations and combinations were literally endless. Modernistic wreaths had their dramatic clusters of metallic ribbons and Christmas balls. For simplicity, low ceramic vases were filled with Talisman or yellow roses and croton leaves, and the Christmas note was silver glitter sprayed on the leaves. Driftwood with bright clusters of carnations gave a ming-tree effect. Nile-green in candles sprayed with glitter was a pleasing departure from conventional dark-green, blending perfectly with red flowers.

English holly, the florists said, is the reliable this year. It combines perfectly with all flower varieties. Holly looks better, lasts longer, if it is placed in water and brown sugar; one cup of brown sugar to a quart of water.

Small Pox

There were only 13 cases of small pox in the U. S. in 1951.

Sunday school, 9:30 a.m.
Sunday service, 11 a.m.
415 N. Dunton ave.

Wednesday evening meetings are held at 8 o'clock and include testimonies of healing.

Reading room hours: Monday through Saturday, 2 to 4 p.m., and Friday evening, 7 to 9 p.m.

That man can utilize divine power for his protection and healing is verified by the Holy Scriptures and will be explained in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Dec. 14. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "God The Preserver of Man."

The Golden Text is from Psalms (25: 2, 21, 22) "O my God, I trust in thee. . . . Let integrity and uprightness preserve me; for I wait on thee. Redeem Israel, O God, out of all his troubles."

Bible selections (King James Version) in the Lesson-Sermon include:

"He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is love. . . . There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear: because fear hath torment. He that feareth is not made perfect in love. . . . The fear of man bringeth a snare: but whoso putteth his trust in the Lord shall be safe" (I John 4: 8, 18; Prov 29: 25).

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include:

"Every trial of our faith in God makes us stronger. The more difficult seems the material condition to be overcome by Spirit, the stronger should be our faith and the purer our love. . . . That evil or matter has neither intelligence nor power, is the doctrine of absolute Christian Science, and this is the great truth which strips all disguise from error. . . . Step by step will those who trust Him find that 'God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble'" (pp. 410, 454, 444).

Teacher Who Taught In France To Tell Experiences At Meeting

Clifford Gallant, French teacher at the high school, and an octet from the choral music classes will entertain at the annual Christmas dinner meeting of the Arlington Area Educators council Thursday, Dec. 11.

The octet, under the direction of Miss June Leick, will sing several Christmas numbers.

Only a few have had a previous opportunity to hear Clifford Gallant discuss his experiences in France last year. His is not a typical tourist experience, since he taught last year in a French school, lived on the premises, and was an integral part of his community.

The meeting will be held at the Junior high school.

Make Plans For Senior Ball December 23

Ralph Morrison's band has been selected to play for the Chirstmas ball of the senior class at Arlington Heights high school.

This band has appeared at the Drake hotel and the Tam O'Shanter Country club. It is a six piece orchestra and has a female vocalist.

The ball will be held at the high school Tuesday, December 23.

Tom Theis, senior class president, announced last week that all committees are far along in their work in preparation for the ball. Bids have been selected and planning has largely been completed by the other committees.

Language Clubs Hold Pan-Language Festival

The language clubs of Arlington Heights township high school held their annual pan-language Christmas festival December 4, in the school cafeteria.

Members of the Latin, French, Spanish and German clubs attended the affair in colorful costumes of the people whose language they study. Roman slaves and nobles in traditional togas mingled with French, Spanish, and German peasants and gentry.

Charles Meeker, senior, reigned over the festival as King Rex. The entertainment was designed around the ancient Roman ceremony of Saturnalia. Each club sang, danced and produced feature skits depicting the Christmas customs of the four countries. "Silent Night," sung in all four languages added much to the spirit of the Christmas festival. Refreshments were also representative of the four countries, featuring French pastries, German fruit cookies, and Roman and Spanish beverages.

The planning committee was headed by Dick Claus and included Marlene Brown, George Bullwinkle, Eunice Ewert, Harry Gjoen, Phyllis Kerschke, Norman Plontke, and Carole Timmerman. Teachers assisting the committee were Donna Marie Volz, Latin; Clifford Gallant French; Margaret Firth, Spanish; Dolores Hudson German.

The massive new grille of the 1953 Ford features a center spinner characteristic of Ford design and a low, road-hugging look which advances the trend in car styling Ford first introduced five years ago. Oblong parking lights are set low to enable the streamlined center bar to wrap around the front fenders and add to the lower, wider appearance.

New Ford Out This Friday

The 1953 Ford—marking the 50th anniversary of the Ford motor company — will go on display in 6400 Ford dealerships across the country Friday, December 12. The new models will be introduced without any increase in present prices.

A massive grille with a center spinner characteristic of recent Ford design and a low, road-hugging look, advance the modern Ford styling. And an outstanding improvement in suspension, termed the "miracle ride," heads a list of mechanical improvements.

To designate the 1953 Ford as the 50th anniversary car, a medallion has been placed on the top of the steering column in combination with a new half-circle horn ring.

EMPHASIZING the longer look of the 1953 Ford is a new chrome molding through the center of the rear fenderline and new jet-tube tail lights with a larger signal area more easily seen from the side or rear. A decorative chrome deck lid handle, mounted below the Ford crest, with a concealed, weather protected key-opening and key spring return, has been added to the new model. The new hub caps feature the Ford name in embossed letters.

Another new feature of the 1953 Ford is the addition of thick, sound-deadening glass fiber lining under the hood, which adds to driving comfort. Other features include Ford's "hull-tight" body construction which seals out water, dust and drafts; its rubber-cushioned body bolts and joints welded, soldered and plastic-sealed. As in 1952, the clutch and brake pedals are suspended from above to do away with dusty, drafty floor holes, keep the brake cylinder away from road mud and dust, and provide unobstructed floor space for the driver.

CLEAR SAFETY glass is standard in the large, one-piece windshield, the curved, car-wide rear window and on the large side windows of the 1953 Ford. As optional equipment at extra cost, Ford I-Rest, soft-green tinted safety glass is available.

Ford front seats have automatic posture control, including non-sag springs covered with a thick foam rubber seat pad and a seat track mechanism for fore-and-aft adjustment of 4.1 inches. During this adjustment the seat cushion rises one-half inch while the seat back tilts forward 1.8 inches to properly accommodate shorter drivers in the extreme forward position. Rear seats in all models also are covered with a cushion of foam rubber.

Attends Deans Meeting

Hazel Beverly, Dean of Girls at Arlington Heights township high school, attended the meeting of the Illinois Association of Deans of Women at the Hotel Custer in Galesburg, December 5 and 6.

For the second year, she is a member of the findings committee, which edits the Newsletter, the official account of the convention.

Highlight of the convention was an address by Mrs. Ruth McCarn, University of Chicago president of the National Association of Deans of Women. The address, entitled, "Light for a Candle," was presented at a formal banquet Friday night.

Friday afternoon, members were taken on a tour of Carl Sandburg's birthplace. Other features of the program were a lecture clinic on "Make Room for a View," conducted by Polly Weaver of Mademoiselle Magazine; a lecture clinic on, "Your Best Face Forward," conducted by Sue Marx and Suzanne Potter of the Revlon College Board; and an address, "Ground and Sky," by Mark Putnam, industrial relations and personnel manager, Deere and Co., Moline.

DO PRESCRIPTIONS COST TOO MUCH?

There's another way of putting this question. You can also ask—how much should you pay for a miracle?

Before the discovery of the wonder drugs like penicillin, the sulfas and others, many common illnesses were genuine family tragedies. Two examples were influenza, and pneumonia . . .

When either of these struck, the family breadwinner was off the job a long time. And sometimes permanently.

Million-dollar laboratories are working day and night to bring you and your doctor new discoveries in drugs that will make you well, keep you well. To you and everyone, that means less off-the-job-time, fewer deaths, longer life.

Any prescription that helps to accomplish that for you is a reasonable investment . . . isn't it?

Most drugs cost very little—thanks to American business volume and American competition, both of which keep prices low. Our fellow-scientist, the doctor, knows as we do that the miracle drugs do cost a little more, but a miracle, after all, is worth much more than dollars. Your doctor believes that. We do. Don't you?

Six Stores And Medical Building To Be Added To Prospect Heights Shop Center

Carleton A. Smith, of the real estate firm of Smith and Dawson, original developers of Prospect Heights, announced this week he has secured permits for the construction of 100 feet of stores and a professional building at Elmhurst and McDonald roads business corner of the community.

Construction is expected to start around May 1 after the winter and wet weather is over, and Smith estimates it will be completed and offices and stores ready for occupancy by August 1.

The professional building is to be erected on the 100 ft. lot directly to the north of the gas station on the northwest corner of McDonald and route 83. There is a house there at present which will be maintained as a rental unit and be in the rear of the new building which will be constructed forward at the business building line.

A MEDICAL clinic and a pharmaceutical store in the same building with access to the drug store from all offices via an inner corridor and door will be the unique plan to be worked out. Although one story medical clinics are being built in the Chicago area the addition of the drug store within the same building is a new idea.

The optometrist, Dr. Richard Smiley; the dentist, Dr. Edward Lyman; and the physician and surgeon, Dr. Martin Meisenheimer, who, at present, have offices above the stores in the business block, will occupy three suites in the professional building and John Brennan, pharmacist, and present owner of the Prospect Heights drug store, will take over the new drug store, which will sell only drugs and fill prescriptions.

Architecture will be strictly modern and Smith is having a Florida architect design the building to make full use of the most up-to-date materials and methods in creating a beautiful exterior and interior to the building. Also included will be two offices which will possibly be used for insurance and a law office and may later become another doctor's office.

TO THE EAST of the present stores and between the present drug store and the fire house six stores will be constructed. Three, already spoken for, will include a pet shop, a floor and wall tile sales and office, and a shoe and shoe repair shop with certain other items to be for sale. Larger quarters are to be found for the post office although plans are not complete as to whether this will be accomplished by moving within the present group of stores.

The shoe repair shop is to be located in the back of the shoe store and will be divided from the rest of the shop by a glass, sound-proof wall. The proprietor will carry certain lines of ladies' and children's wear which will enable him to expand as time goes on into regular department store items.

In the pet shop there will be sold birds and parakeets and supplies and there will be opportunity for the owner to arrange from Kennels a short distance away for the sale of dogs.

Besides the regular well-known types of floor and wall tiles this store will feature a new type composition tile which will look like glass for the sale of which the prospective owner, already in business, has the agency in several states.

The present drug store, under new ownership, is to become a sundry store with ice cream, newspapers, magazines, and a variety of other items.

THE EXPANDED post office will definitely mean better service for a growing Prospect Heights and surrounding area who desire to use the post office.

Another thought in the mind of Smith, the details of which he is now looking into, is the organization of a sponsored junior league baseball team for boys from 8 to 12 years of age. The diamond, which would have to be of certain regulation size, would be located where the present diamond is—on the southeast corner of Elmhurst and McDonald. Sponsorship would entail the provision of uniforms and other supplies and the league would become a part of the national league.

Correct Usage

When you look forward to some event, you "expect" it. You expect future events. You do not say, "I expect the man is a carpenter." You may say, "I suppose (or believe) the man is a carpenter."

Post Office Urges Patrons To Clean Walks, Steps Of Snow, Ice

Mail patrons are reminded to please remove the snow from their walks and stairs. If the weather is icy it is requested that ashes or salt be sprinkled on the steps. Those patrons getting curb delivery or rural mail service must also keep the approaches to their boxes clear of snow.

The average individual thinks only in terms of his own property and feels, let the cleaning of snow go until tonight or tomorrow. But count each stop the mail man must make, which averages 400 a day for each carrier, and the public will realize how important it is that each walk, steps and mail box be kept safe and clear for the delivery of mail.

GAGNE-ETCHINSON BOUT TOPS WRESTLING CARD SATURDAY

Deadline This Saturday For Paddock Meet

Defending Titlists Haseman Motors Half Game Out, Fighting For Berth

Whether Haseman Motors, defending champions of Paddock Publications Inter-League bowling handicap can make this year's tourney is the big question at Hi-Way Recreation, Palatine, where they enter Friday night's competition in a do-or-die effort.

Haseman's trail Dreyer Electric in the House league by a half game. Whichever team is in first place, come 11:45 p.m. Friday will determine that loop's representative in the January 4 newspaper-sponsored tournament at Arlington Heights Bowling Lanes.

Haseman's roll third place Cork and Bottle while Dreyer meets seventh place Kehe's Market Friday night.

FIRST PLACE teams as of December 13 in 37 leagues rolling at six bowling establishments within the immediate area served by the eight Paddock Publications are eligible for the men's tournament.

First place squads as of December 20 of 21 women's leagues competing at the same alleys will compete for honors at Bowlwood Recreation, Wood Dale, Sunday, Jan. 11.

Up for grabs will be two large team traveling trophies, ten small individual trophies, and better than $350 in prizes in the two meets. Entry fees are $15 per team, payable by December 20 for the men and by December 27 for the women. In case of ties in any leagues, loop officers are charged with responsibility of naming league representatives.

FIRST ONE IN

First entry, cash in hand, for Paddock Publications Inter-League bowling tournament was received Wednesday morning from Clement's Cement Contractors of the Zurich-Grove league rolling at Hi-Way Recreation, Palatine.

OTHER CLOSE races are in prospect for the final eligibility week for the tournament, including Thursday Men's loop at Arlington Heights Bowling Lanes. Webber Paint and Esquire Service Station are tied at 21-15, with Krause and Kehe and Jacobsen Realtors tied for third just one-and-a-half back. This week Webber bowls Jacobsen and Esquire rolls Knaack Motor Sales.

In the Friday Men's league at Arlington, Turf Billiards needs to win just one game from John's Tavern five to win a tourney berth. Turf is ahead of John by three games, the two squads bowling each other Friday night on alleys 3 and 4.

ALSO AT HEIGHTS, and also Thursday night, the Businessmen's Sportsman league has Arlington Liquor Mart just one game ahead of that night's opponent, Dunteman Dairy. Two wins by the milkmen would tie, three would lead, in the rolling on alleys one and two.

Regional And Sectional To Arlington

Arlington Heights high school has been awarded both regional and sectional tournaments, it was learned Monday of this week when superintendent LeRoy J. Knoeppel received word from the Illinois high school association. District centers will be selected early in January after competing schools have been grouped in the regionals during December.

The regional tournaments will be played the week end of March 6 with the sectionals to follow a week later.

THE HEIGHTS gym is known to be one of the largest in the entire suburban area, seating more than Waukegan, Elgin and other gyms where tournaments have been held in the past. Locker room facilities are among the best with the central location providing point number three that brought the state office to its decision.

Other nearby regionals include Aurora West, Elgin, Hinsdale, Lake Forest and Proviso.

Goelz, Hickson In Australian Tag At Arlington

by EV GILLMORE

There are still plenty of seats available for the stellar wrestling event being held Saturday, Dec. 13 at Arlington Heights high school's 4,000 capacity gymnasium. The matches are sponsored by Arlington VFW Post 981.

Headlining the attraction is a match between Verne Gagne and Ronnie Etchison. An Australian tag match will feature the team of Billy Goelz and Bill Hickson vs. Zack Malkov and the Canadian Angel. The preliminary will see Bobbie Nelson pitted against Carl Meyers.

GAGNE, A TOP drawing card since winning the junior heavyweight championship in 1950, hails from Robbinsdale, Minn. While a student at the University of Minnesota, he won four Big Ten and two NCAA titles and represented the United States in the 1948 Olympic games. Regarded as the best "straight" wrestler in the country, the 26-year-old grappler was a football star on the Golden Gophers for three years and played one year of professional football before turning to wrestling.

Ronnie Etchison, Gagne's rough opponent, is from St. Joseph, Mo. Weighing around 230, he has held the Pacific coast heavyweight championship and is a great favorite with the fans.

BILLY GOELZ in the tag match is holder of the midwest junior heavyweight championship. Long a television favorite, the Fox Lake, Ill., wrestler is one of the fastest, most scientific competitors in action today.

Goelz' running mate, Bill Hickson, a rangy six-foot, 200 pound Tennessean is ordinarily regarded as a scientific wrestler but if treated roughly, responds in kind.

THEIR OPPONENTS, Zack Malkov and the Canadian Angel are a rough combination when paired with each other. Malkov, a Chicago ex-cop was personal bodyguard for ex-Governor Horner.

Bobby Nelson, a 225 pound roughhouser from Milwaukee, has been known to ump out of the ring when the going gets tough. He wrestled as the masked Marvel. His opponent Carl Meyers, is a rough and promising newcomer in this area.

PROCEEDS from the event will be added to the general and relief funds used for hospital and rehabilitation purposes for veterans and their families. A portion of the gate will be contributed to the local Lions club to purchase additional audio equipment to test hearing of Arlington Heights school children.

Tickets will go on sale at 7 p.m. at the windows the night of the matches. The seats all present a clear view of the ring. Tickets are also on sale at the following places:

Millay's news stand, Neumann's barber shop, Sieburg Drug co., Horath Shell service station and Rudy Stein candy shop all in Arlington Heights; L-Nor Cleaners in Prospect Heights; William Lutz and William Metz, 1537 Miner st., Des Plaines; Coleman drugs and Kehe's grocery and market, Palatine, and Triangle Motors in Wheeling.

Wheeling Hawks Lose, 40-38, To Libertyville

The Libertyville Community club snapped a two game winning streak of the Wheeling Blackhawks, when they downed the 'Hawks 40-38 at Libertyville last week Tuesday night.

Paced by Meyer and Newman, Libertyville jumped to a 15 to 6 lead in the first quarter and led 24 to 13 at half time. However, a fighting and spirited Blackhawk five returned to the floor in the third quarter. Led by Hans Schmidt and Spook Millay the 'Hawks tallied 19 markers to take a 32-30 lead going into the final round of play.

But Libertyville started to move again, and when the quarter was three minutes old the score stood at 36-all. The two clubs exchanged baskets before George Newman sank a 30 foot set shot to give Libertyville its victory margin. A last second shot by Schmidt was blocked.

MEYER LED the Community club with 17 points and Newman was runner-up with 13. Hans Schmidt and Spook Millay were high men for Wheeling with 13 and 8 points respectively.

The 'Hawks move to Lake Zurich tonight to meet the Lake Zurich A. C. quintette in the Ela high school gym. Game time is 8 p. m.

The opening of North Shore League play was held up until the first of the year due to member teams being entered in A. A. U. tourneys between now and January 1. All the Blackhawk home league games will be played at Arlington Heights high school.

Also appearing on the Blackhawks home schedule are Great Lakes naval base, the Great Lakes naval hospital, the Silver Lake Landscapers from Silver Lake, Wisconsin, and possibly the Chicago Brown Bombers.

MAC SAYS

BY G. A. McELROY

CONGRATULATIONS to Wally Grace, athletic director, and Leroy Knoeppel, superintendent of Arlington Heights township high school on bringing to the new Arlington gym both the regional and sectional basketball tournaments.

Arlington's gym is the best in the area. It seats over 4,000 spectators with ease, has excellent locker room accommodations, and a lobby for handling crowds that is 36x80 feet, or just as large as the gyms at Palatine, Bensenville, and Ela-Vernon.

We hope local people will patronize these tournaments well enough so state authorities will see fit to designate this locality as site for future tournaments.

ARE LA GRANGE AND BARRINGTON headed for the state tournament, or is Arlington Heights' cage team as poor as the scores Friday and Saturday would indicate? It seems likely LaGrange and Barrington are among the stronger teams in the area though one-sided victories over Arlington do not mean they are going to win from everyone else. On the other hand Arlington may have played over their heads in that opening game with Palatine and are not going to be as good as that victory would indicate.

Only time will tell just what Arlington will do. We hope for the best.

That 92-47 loss to LaGrange and 61-41 to Barrington do not make Palatine, loser to Arlington, 53-48, look very good in spite of the fact that the Pirates have taken all five of their other starts to date.

DON'T SELL HAROLD GAFFNEY'S Barrington Bronchos short in spite of the fact they cannot use All-Northwest conference guard, Fred Cochran, this season. Barrington has a veteran team with more height than any of their past good quintets.

We would tab them for the state tourney with Cochran on the team, but they still may make a real fight for the honor in a season when the area has no stand out performer.

The Barrington team averages over six feet and with a team of McGowan 6-3½ and Hohfelder 6-0, forwards; Popp 6-2 center; and Babb 6-3 and Berghorn 6-1 guards; having no one under six feet. We think the Bronchos will breeze through the North Suburban undefeated and cop the regional without much trouble, but of course the March tournaments are a long way away.

KANKAKEE CAN HARDLY be called a suburban school, but they are at least technically, a member of the South Suburban conference and in the regional compete with Argo, Blue Island, Bloom, Thornton and others of that group.

Of all the teams in Chicago and suburban leagues, Kankakee seems most certain to go to the state tourney.

With seven of last year's squad of 10 which went to the state still available, including the tallest boys, Kankakee has rolled over the opposition to date in steam roller fashion. Latest was piling up 87 points on Champaign, a school always well represented on the basketball court.

PALATINE, WINNER OF FIVE out of six games and three straight in the Northwest conference, can go well out in front of the field if they can win the next two games. Grant, the next opponent Friday at Palatine, and Antioch, played on the road December 19, are also unbeaten in league play, though having played one less game than the Pirates.

Palatine was not expected to get any help to speak of from the Northbrook transfers in basketball, but some of the local boys have failed to come through and Stan Hauseman, former Northbrook guard, has become a fixture at forward where he has averaged 14 points a game. His rebounding at Bensenville Friday was a bright spot in Palatine's victory.

HEBRON WILL PLAY only five games on the home court this year, playing the rest of their 20-game schedule on the road . . . Although the 49th ABC tournament lasted a record of 85 days, approximately 2,040 hours, the major championships were won in a period of less than two days, 33 hours . . . Fans wondering why Michigan State is rated high again next season might take note that of the 28 Michigan all-state prep gridders in 1951, 26 are enrolled at State with the other two at Ann Arbor . . . The Cubs as of today are planning to start the season in April with Fondy, Miksis, Jackson and Smalley . . . The new "second chance" foul rule has been monickered "phonus bolognus" rule.

Palatine JVs Drop 35-29 Contest At Antioch

Palatine's junior varsity team dropped a 35-29 decision in their first game played at Antioch last Saturday morning. Antioch took a five point lead in the opening quarter and that was the margin of victory.

Lass had 12 points and Brownlee 11 for the winners. Roger Kolze scored nine, Alan Eck got seven and Ken Hahn and Lawrence Hapke each six for Palatine.

Next Saturday the Palatine JV group plays at Grayslake.

GAMES FRIDAY

Grant at Palatine.
Bensenville at Antioch.
Wauconda at Grayslake.

It is a battle for the conference lead Friday night at Palatine when the Pirates clash with visiting Grant high of Fox Lake. Palatine has beaten three opponents without a loss, taking the measure of Grayslake 55-43, Ela-Vernon 48-47, and Bensenville 60-44. Grant has beaten Wauconda 56-45 and Grayslake 74-71.

Grant is the surprise team of the league this far. With a starting team of one senior, three juniors and a sophomore Coach Mike Berberich might be looking to 1953-54 but the boys are looking so good the Fox Lake team is in real contention this year.

Grant has no players from among the first seven boys of last year who copped second in the conference but good sophomores have come up and Bob Bein, a rangy sharp shooting sophomore, has made the varsity squad.

In the first two games Bein has scored 23 points a contest to set a dizzy pace no one expects him to maintain.

Grant is well blessed with reserve strength and Berberich has been using 10 players a game with most of them breaking into the point totals.

PALATINE HAS shown periods of championship ball and then at times has played poor ball. The Pirates are probably a bit better defensively than many of the teams in the league and no one expects any such scoring Friday as Grant put on against Grayslake.

Paul Schrage, Stan Hauseman, and John Busch have been most consistent for Palatine. Pete Abramson and Dick Abrahamson have been alternating at one forward with Tinker Meyer at the other guard spot. With more scoring at the forward position which is in question, and more consistent play at floor guard Palatine could take the championship going away but those are the uncertain factors in the Palatine situation.

BENSENVILLE'S winless Bisons take on another tough one Friday, traveling to undefeated Antioch where they will play on a big floor against one of the league's best teams. The Bisons, led by Bert Heuer, Billy Long, and Dick Syzmonik, have been doing plenty of scoring but defensively they have been found lacking, allowing opponents to register 183 points in three games for a defensive average of 61 points a contest. Antioch has a well balanced rangy team of veterans with Stahmer, Baird, Quilty, Weber and Bob Fields regulars or first subs last year and Ben Fields, the high scorer, an outstanding sophomore.

Besides Syzmonik, sole returning letterman from last season's squad, and Heuer and Long, the Bisons are going along with a group of hustling juniors and subs from the 1951-52 squad. Foremost in the group are Don Tuchscherer, Norm Kozak, Tom Walsh and Pedro Cuatrecasas. Heuer and Long, however, remain the top scorers on the team with 48 and 37 points respectively.

THE OTHER Friday game on the Northwest card brings together Wauconda and Grayslake with the latter a heavy favorite. The Hook cousins, Jay and John, have together averaged 34 points a game, a real feat for lads standing five foot six and five foot eight in height in this age of tall basketball players.

Wauconda has lost both their starts. Last year Wauconda's frosh-sophs, who make up this year's varsity, had a strong unit but were weak at hitting the basket. The same trouble is plaguing them this year.

Arlington Host To Glenbard Friday

by BOB PADDOCK

Arlington will play host to Glenbard Friday night in its second quest for a conference victory, with Coach Ray DeGreeff's squad standing a much better chance to reach the win column than this past week against LaGrange.

Noticeably weak on defense in their three games thus far, the Cardinals have been concentrating on defense in practices this week. In addition, more scoring punch is needed. Friday night only Slinkard sank more than one basket, making eight, while Saturday against Barrington only Bowersox with seven made more than two.

Both Cards and Bards were smitten by pre-season favored LaGrange and York last week, the latter by the Elmhurst school, 77-26. Both winning squads used their entire benches in competition.

THE FROSH-SOPH division presents a different picture. Arlington heads the West Suburban parade after upsetting LaGrange, 35-33. The Lyons township youngsters have been conference champs the past five years. Glenbard suffered a 40-39 loss to York in a thriller where the Bards tied the score with a rally, then lost on a free throw.

In other words two good games are in prospect for local fans in the spanking new Heights gym where "everyone gets a seat." Arlington has a good chance to cop both contests.

IN OTHER league games Downers journeys to Hinsdale, the latter an overtime loser to Maine, Riverside-Brookfield will present itself before LaGrange, and Maine should be easy meat for York.

Other Arlington activity finds the wrestlers at York in a two squad affair Thursday night, the JV cagers host to Leyden Saturday morning, and the grapplers off to Leyden for an afternoon affair Monday.

Heights Sports Menu

Thursday, December 11, varsity and frosh-soph wrestling, York there, 7:15.

La Grange Drubs Heights In League Opener, 92-47

It was a few minutes after ten o'clock Friday night when they turned off the buzz saw at LaGrange and amongst the shavings were Arlington's Cardinals, shorn of their wings, but fighting all the way, 92-47.

The locals "played good ball," fumbled only five times in spite of a pressing defense by LaGrange the entire contest. But the Lyons township squad had just too much ability, size and stamina for Heights and the result was a loss in the opening West Suburban league contest.

The frosh-sophs won the opener, however, 35-33.

LARRY SLINKARD hit the hoop successfully eight times, with five free throws making it 21 points against the champs. Otherwise four boys took turns sinking one shot apiece for a total of 12 baskets throughout the game.

For LaGrange Joe McRae led the scoring with "7 and 2" for 16 points. Right behind were Smith and Lawlor, both with 15 scores. Three more boys, Leon McRae, Caiazza and Sedgwick all tallied ten points for Coach Chuck Bennett as 15 boys saw action.

Locally, the Cardinals were never caught behind the ten second line in spite of the Lyons press. Rebounding was fair on Arlington's part. Halftime tally was 43-19 with a 72-27 mark prevailing going into the home stretch.

A WORNOUT bunch of boys made poor, but generous, hosts to Barrington Saturday night as the Cardinals lost their second game in as many night, 61-41. Coach Ray DeGreeff's boys were dead under the basket, appeared stunned from the action the night before, and once again showed a weak defense. Opponents have rung up 201 points against the locals in three games.

Slinkard was cold at the basket Saturday, though Tom Bowersox sank seven buckets to take up the slack. Eakins swished three with McAuliffe and Turner getting the other two for Heights. Bowersox also sank six of seven free throws.

BARRINGTON HELD a 12 point lead at halftime, 27-15, saw it cut to nine points, then extended it to 15 and won going away by 20. Berghorn with 16, Hohfelder with 15 and McGowan with 14 were big guns at the basket. But just as important was Popp against the boards as he swung into the fray and captured the ball, time after time.

Arlington had the shots but couldn't hit the hoop. They sank just 12 of 47 attempts. At the free throw line the Cardinals made 17 of 26 tosses, about the same as Barrington with 15 of 24.

Dick McAuliffe, out of the Palatine game, reinjured his ankle Thursday and didn't play much either Friday or Saturday.

Choose Officers For Wheeling And Mt. Prospect Little League In '53

The Wheeling-Mount Prospect area seems assured of a four-team "official Little League" for the 1953 baseball season.

The league will consist of two teams from Wheeling and two from Mount Prospect. The schedule will be an 18 game program to be played between the middle of May and the end of August.

Arthur Tews and Fred Bodeker attended a meeting, as representatives of Mount Prospect league, to enter a bid for assistance from the Chicago White Sox. The Pale Hose are going all out in aiding organizations financially, and with any other help they can give.

OFFICERS OF the league, to be known as the "Northwest Suburban League," were appointed December 2 at a meeting attended by representatives from both towns.

These are the officers:

Baseball commissioner, Edward Welflin of Wheeling.

Vice-president, Theodore Lams of Mount Prospect.

Secretary, Jack Norris of Wheeling.

Treasurer, J. Keefer of Mount Prospect.

Umpiring will be handled by a corps of 12 umpires to be appointed by the league. Although some men are now available for this responsible assignment more volunteers are needed. Anyone interested can contact Fred Peterson, CLearbrook 3-2697, or Ted Scanlon, Wheeling 221-R.

THIS LEAGUE will function in accordance with rules and by-laws of the National group which has headquarters in Williamsport, Pa. This will entitle local boys to participate in the Little League World Series played in Pennsylvania.

The officers and committee who have laid the ground work for the Northwest Suburban league feel this will be the beginning of a program which will continue and become more successful each year, for the benefit of boys 8 to 12.

Glenbard Sophs Almost Tie, But Lose By One

A free throw by Tom Roule in the last nine seconds gave the York frosh-sophs a thrilling 40-39 victory over the Glenbard frosh-sophs.

Roule captured scoring honors for the game as he hit for 18 points. Ed Morgan of Glenbard got 13.

The first quarter was very rough. Glenbard received 14 free throws and York 8. The Bards jumped into an early lead as Morgan and Steve Thompson scored five points each to give them a quarter lead of 14-11.

YORK RALLIED for 14 points in this quarter as Roule made 4 baskets. The York rally gave them a halftime advantage of 25-21.

The third quarter was very slow as only a total of nine points were scored. York clung to their lead and had a 30-25 advantage at the end of the three quarter mark.

The fourth and last quarter started slowly with the Barons pulling into a seven point lead. The Bards suddenly got the range and tied the game.

WITH THREE minutes left and York leading 37-30, Bob Edwards pushed through three quick baskets to pull within one point of a tie. Steve Thompson dropped a free throw to tie and then with nine seconds left the Bards tried hard to get the ball as Roule was fouled. His first shot missed but he sank the second to win the game.

The Bards played well under pressure, and didn't resemble the tense, nervous team of last week.

Palatine Frosh-Sophs Rally Over Bensenville

A strong finish gave Palatine's frosh-sophs their third straight Northwest conference victory at Bensenville Friday night 42-37. The Bisons led seven to six at the quarter and both teams scored the same number of points in the second and third periods giving Bensenville a 30-29 lead. In the final period Palatine tallied 13 to the Bisons' seven.

Alan Eck led the last quarter rally as he did at Ela on Tuesday with three field goals. Eck scored 21 points for the game and John Goetz had nine. Sirotzski scored 14 and Young nine for Bensenville, who dropped their third in a row.

Kirk And York Run Over Bards

The big Dukes from York showed they are a title contender this year as they completely humiliated the Bards, 76-26, Friday night.

Paced by guard Wally Kirk, who scored 30 points, the Dukes started the rout in the first quarter as they jumped to an early 6-0 lead. By the end of the quarter they held a 21-6 advantage.

THE BARDS were completely routed in the second quarter as Wally Kirk singed the nets for 14 points. Wally Strauch got five for the Dukes. Dave Clarke hit for two of Glenbard's three points with a mid-quarter basket. The Dukes held a 43-9 halftime advantage.

The Dukes started the third quarter with practically a brand new team. By the time the game was over every player on the York bench had seen action.

KIRK HIT for nine points to raise his total to 30. As soon as he reached this mark he was replaced.

The Dukes held a 57-14 third quarter advantage.

In the fourth quarter all the Glenbard seniors got in and at least made a game of it during that quarter. They were outscored 19-12.

YORK SHOWED a smooth, coordinated attack centered around Kirk. They had a sensational shooting average from the floor while Glenbard could only hit on 13%. Peters and Mullin hardly approached their pre-conference form.

The Bards play at Arlington Heights Friday night.

Arlington Wrestlers Lose To R-B, Beat Mc Henry

Arlington's grapplers, mentored by Dick Mudge, split their opening meets the past week, losing to Riverside-Brookfield, 29-22, and mauling McHenry, 41-15.

The meet at Riverside was a thriller all the way. The Cards went ahead, were tied and passed, then tied, fought to a draw, went ahead by two pins, then lost four decisions and a pin in the heavier weights.

Winners by pins for Heights were Vic Carlino, Walter Mulso, Charles Turk and John Milnamow. Fred Welsh gained a draw.

RIVERSIDE-BROOKFIELD is rated one of the better league squads, particularly in the 175 pound division where Griffins, undefeated sectional winner last year, decisioned Dave Brant of Arlington.

The 58 man squad has been cut to 40, according to Coach Mudge, with 18 currently on the traveling squad. Two additional weights have been added this year, 95 and 175.

Riverside results:

95—Carlino A pinned Spellman R-B in 1:03 of first.

Heights Sophs Beat La Grange, Lose To Broncs

Accuracy at the free throw line paid off for Arlington in the frosh-soph encounter at La-Grange Friday night as Coach Maurice Klotz' fivesome edged the defending loop champs, 35-33. The locals dropped a 42-32 contest Saturday night to Barrington.

The youngsters tallied 17 charities of 34 attempts while La-Grange could connect on only 9 of 39, and therein lies the tale. The losers led in field goals, 12-9.

WAYNE MUELLER led the way offensively with six buckets and seven free ones for 19 points. Maher sank four free throws while Riggs made two baskets.

LaGrange pressed all over the floor but Dennis Maher was equal to the occasion. Time after time he was given the job of bringing the ball down the floor and he did a superb job, never losing it. Three boys fouled out in the last quarter, including Theis, Wayne Brumm and Larry Brumm.

Top scoring honors for the La-Grange frosh-sophs were taken by Arnold with 13 points.

A DIFFERENT bunch of boys took the floor against Barrington Saturday, the names the same but the play listless. The Heights squad couldn't take the physical beating two nights in a row.

Mueller with 11, Maher with 8 and Riggs with 6 accounted for all but seven of Arlington's points. The local fivesome ranked just one behind the winners from the field, 12-13, but superior free throws made the difference. Barrington swished in 16 of 35 while Heights garnered only eight of 24.

High for the young Bronchos was Cochran with 13 and Folleth with ten.

Frosh Win, But JVs Lose At Maine Saturday

The freshman showed the way, but the junior-varsity couldn't follow — therein lies the story of Arlington's basketball trip to Maine Saturday morning. The youngsters won, 43-28, while the others lost, 51-29.

Maine had plenty of height in the frosh game, but lacked proper timing. They missed out on plenty of jump balls and missed many passes, enabling Heights to capitalize for points.

BILL RANDAG led the scoring for Arlington. He notched one bucket the opening quarter, sank two of six free throws the second, added three buckets the third frame, and pushed through a final basket and one of four charities the last stanza. Total tally was 13.

Arlington started slow, 5-9 in the opening period, then tied things at the half, 19-all. Third quarter lead for the locals was 33-24, the result of a 14-5 margin.

Siech and Malzahn looked particularly good on rebounding, with Haemker and Sujack appearing best on ball handling.

TWO POLITE junior-varsity squads took turns scoring in the second game Saturday morning. Maine ran up 14-4 and 17-3 margins the first two periods. Arlington led, 17-4, the third quarter. Maine came back in the final, 16-5. Final score was 51-29, Maine.

Arlington played a poor first half, but played even the second, as the host regulars were taken out to rejoin the varsity squad. Two buckets by Ryden the first quarter and one by Hutchinson the second were the sum total of Heights scoring from the field the first half.

In the third period two baskets for Ryden, and one apiece for Bjorklund, Sieburg and Hauff led the way. Hauff also tallied four of six free throws. Better team play was evident the second half.

Palatine Finishes Strong To Whip Bensenville, 60-44

Palatine kept their Northwest cage record all in the victory column by beating Bensenville, 60-44, in the varsity game and 42-37 in the frosh-soph games at Bensenville Friday night. It was the third straight for both Palatine teams. In the next two weeks the Pirates meet unbeaten Grant and Antioch who appear to be their chief rivals for the championship.

After a close 10-7 first quarter Palatine gradually pulled away from the Bison varsity and held a 25-17 lead at the half and 36 to 27 at the third quarter. A hot fourth quarter which netted 24 points iced the game away by a more substantial margin than Palatine had any hopes of achieving on the Bison court, which has been a jinx to Pirate teams.

PAUL SCHRAGE and Stan Hauseman continued to lead the Palatine attack. Schrage had six field goals and seven free throws for 19 while Hauseman had six from the field and four at the charity line for 16 points.

Bert Heuer, Bison center, connected five and six for 16 points. Capt. Dick Syzmonik got only one basket but continued to lead the league in free throws getting eight out of 12 to make it 28 for the first three games.

GRANT AND Grayslake hooked up in a high scoring duel which set a league record of 145 points for one game. Grant won 74-71 though Grayslake put on a last ditch rally which almost overtook the Bulldogs. Grant was on top 63-54 going into the final segment. The Bulldogs led, 42-40, at half time after trailing Grayslake, 22-15, at the quarter.

The Hook boys led Grayslake. John got 22 points and Jay 18. Bob Bein, Grant's sensational sophomore forward, got 23 to duplicate his count against Wauconda and give him 46 in two league games. Kent Raffel got 14 for Grant with Dick Wisner and Don Dalziel each snaring nine points. It was the second straight for Grant who will travel to Palatine Friday to battle for the conference lead.

Grayslake's frosh-sophs made it two straight since dropping the opener to Palatine by scoring a 45-34 victory at Grant.

A REAL TITLE contending Antioch team found an ice cold shooting Ela five an easy mark at Lake Zurich Friday and took their second league start in a row, 45-26. The Ela Bears got only three field goals in the first half and were way behind, 24-11. The best Ela could do in scoring was seven by Dee Busch and six by big Frank Cole.

Sophomore center, Ben Floyd, topped Antioch with 13 points while brother Bob got 10. Quilty and Stahmer with eight apiece and Baird with five gave Antioch very well balanced scoring. Antioch was charged with only nine fouls, eight of which were assessed to the Floyd brothers. Antioch will be at home on their new court to Bensenville's winless Bisons Friday and next week Friday, December 19, will be host to Palatine's undefeated Pirates who lead the league with three straight victories.

Antioch's frosh-sophs, pre-season favorites to win the championship annexed their second straight victory 42-30 over Ela's cubs.

Builders Using Lower Cost Method To Lay Oak Floors

A relatively new and lower cost method of installing strip oak floors in homes built on concrete slabs is now being utilized extensively. Eliminating wood subflooring, it involves nailing the oak flooring to short lengths of 2x4s arranged in a staggered pattern. Spaced closely enough to provide ample nailing surface and adequate support for the finish flooring, the 2x4s are adhered to the slab by mastic. Builders say that oak floors are especially desirable over concrete slabs because they provide added floor warmth and dryness in winter.

In the Shadow of + + + The Steeple

by William O. McGill

Heels and mugs have no difficulty obtaining publicity in the press ordinarily. But now there is an opportunity for the right people to make a little news. The National Conference of Christians and Jews, through its Chicago office, is going to pay tribute to some of the good neighbors of the metropolitan area.

Stuyvesant Peabody is the Illinois chairman of Brotherhood Week, in February 1953; he has made an announcement that the James M. Yard Brotherhood Awards are open for nominations. The hope is that people of the area will write to the Brotherhood Week officers about their neighbors who promote good human relations throughout the year.

SOME PEOPLE work through organizations; some people in their daily personal actions help to combat the development of bigotry and intolerance. But the NCCJ would like to hear about them. There are a lot of people around our part of the county who are engaged in trying to overcome the prejudicial behavior that refuses to associate with persons whose religion or skin color or accent is different from some other persons'.

Such a person was Jim Yard. He founded the Chicago office of the Conference of Christians and Jews, as well as several other offices in the midwest. Jim was always in the middle of any discussion which sought to paint a person's character on superficial bases. His testimony was clear and definite, yet always was the expression of a saintly character. The naming of the brotherhood awards for him is one tribute to integrity of his character and to the esteem in which he was held.

If you have a neighbor who tries to be a neighbor—"which of them, do you think, was the neighbor to the man who fell among thieves? He that was merciful to him."—why don't you tell the Conference of Christians and Jews about that neighbor. Their address is 203 N. Wabash ave., Chicago 1.

After all, what better way is Christmas kept in the heart of a man or a woman throughout the year than in the way in which he lives as one in whom the Father in Heaven is well pleased?

Mundelein Bond Issue

A $150,000 bond issue for public works improvements in the village of Mundelein was recommended at a meeting of the board of trustees.

At Orchestra Hall

The civic orchestra, under the baton of George Schick, associate conductor of the Chicago symphony orchestra, will present the first of two concerts scheduled for this season Friday evening, Dec. 19, at Orchestra Hall.

Arthur Grumiaux, distinguished Belgian violinist whose debut in Chicago with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra was one of the highlights of last season, returns as soloist at the orchestra's mid-week concerts this week under the baton of Rafael Kubelik at Orchestra Hall.

Grumiaux will be heard in two works: Haydn's C Major violin concerto, which has never been performed at these concerts; and Alban Berg's Concerto for Violin and Orchestra, which Louis Krasner played with the orchestra

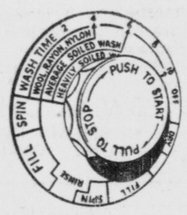
FRIGIDAIRE Automatic Home Laundry

Start off with a Frigidaire All-Porcelain Automatic Washer!

Clothes are washed and rinsed really clean, really bright by Frigidaire's exclusive Live-Water Action — with no pulling or yanking of clothes. And the Rapidry Spin gets many clothes dry enough to iron right away. Shuts off and cleans itself automatically. Porcelain-on-steel finish — inside and out — won't stain, rust or mar. No bolting down.



Wash Special Things Entirely Automatically!

Here's another great Frigidaire Automatic Washer advancement! It's Frigidaire's new Select-O-Dial, which lets you wash even special things like nylons, rayons, baby clothes entirely automatically! All you do is set the dial once — the way you want it — and forget it.

You'll Want A Frigidaire Automatic Electric Clothes Dryer

Now you can dry clothes indoors as fast as you wash them, automatically! Clothes come out soft, fluffy, sweet-smelling — ready for immediate ironing — or dry them bone-dry for folding and storing. New built-in Ozone Lamp and new temperature control!

TO THE HOUSEWIFE

WHOSE FAMILY IS GROWN

You and your husband may have your hearts set on some immediate goal—a new car, possibly, or a home of your own, or perhaps sending your youngster in high school on to college. Whatever your dream, why not make it come true more quickly. Here's how you can supplement your income and speed the winning of your goal:

We have an attractive opening for you right now—a job you'll find easy to get to and pleasant to do. If you were once a typist or office clerk you'll like it all the more.

You can ride to and from comfortably on Northwestern trains that bring you right to our modern offices in the Daily News building without having to go outside unless you choose. You'll find us a friendly, family-type, well-known organization.

Let us tell you more about our opening and what it can do for you.

Write Box K-36, c/o Paddock Publications, Arlington Heights.

Man for permanent appointment. Also two men for part time sales work. We want a man who believes that he can do a good selling job with a long time established product, the greatest value in it's field. Factory training and full cooperation to active men appointed. Tell us about yourself.

Retirement Date Important For Social Security

Any person who has been in work covered by social security continuously since January 1, 1951, and is 65 years old or over, is now insured and eligible for benefit payments, if he retires, Miss Ellen McGuire, manager of the Northwest office at 5306 W. Lawrence ave, said.

The 1950 changes in the social security law make it possible for many persons in the newly covered groups to qualify for retirement benefits for the first time, Miss McGuire stated. These groups include the self-employed, regular domestic workers, regular farm workers, and others.

TO GET PAYMENTS based solely on work brought under the law as of January, 1951, these wage earners and self-employed persons must be covered by social security for at least six calendar quarters—about a year and a half—after 1950. The size of their monthly benefit payment will depend on the average monthly wage from employment or income from self-employment after 1950.

Miss McGuire reminds these newly included groups to verify that their employers have properly recorded the social security account numbers. These numbers form the basic record from which insurance payments are figured. If they are incorrect, future payments may also be incorrect.

BENEFIT PAYMENTS to a retired worker will range from $25 to $85 monthly. Monthly benefits to a retired worker and his wife would range from $37.50 to $127.50 monthly.

A representative of the office at 5306 W. Lawrence ave. may be reached in room 6 of the Des Plaines post office building. He visits each Tuesday between 10 a.m. and 12 noon, for the convenience of those residing in Northwest Cook county.

Dangerous Game

Hawaiians, always an athletic people, used to play dangerously King Kamehameha I reportedly excelled in a reverse javelin throw, catching war spears thrown at his heart.

Too Much Salt On Icy Walks Menaces Trees

Upon the arrival of the snow shovel and ice scraper season, be careful using such chemicals as salt and calcium chloride. You are liable to "melt" the landscaping, along with the ice and snow.

This advice is sounded by D. B. Magruder, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert company, who points out that brine and other chemical run-offs frequently are injurious to trees, shrubbery and lawns. Of course, labor-saving chemicals help make walks and driveways less hazardous, but moderation is the keynote in their use.

The tree expert urges that the miminum amounts to do the job be judiciously applied. This precaution is particularly significant when the ground is not frozen. Blankets of snow do not mean a solid freeze below. Actually, snow is an excellent insulator.

Unfrozen soil will absorb excess moisture in any form, including the toxic brine you may have created. Unfortunately, damage caused by ice melting chemicals is not apparent in winter. It will show up in a great variety of injuries when growth starts again. Extent of the injuries usually depends upon the concentration of chemicals and variety of plant material involved. No plants are immune, but species recommended for seaside plantings are generally more resistant to salt injury.

Mr. Magruder says extensive tree damage is done from Maine well into the South each winter because of the chemical run-offs.

Purer Than Soap

Completely pure substances are not known to chemistry, but of all common compounds, familiar sugar is the purest, averaging over 99.9 per cent pure sucrose.

Just Around The Corner

from PATTY McARDLE

Dear Peg:

Recently, Bob and I had the privilege of seeing one of the most interesting movies, we agreed we had ever seen. The Wetherills, our second floor friends and neighbors, invited us to come down one evening to see a color and sound film of Admiral Byrd's latest expedition to the South Pole, "Operation Highjump." Since Will teaches in the department of naval science at the Ilinois Institute of Technology, he was able to obtain this educational and interesting film, and was permitted to bring it home.

Movie actors Robert Montgomery, Robert Taylor and Van Heflin narrated, and as the picture opened we saw and heard Admiral Nimitz and former secretary of the navy Forrestal.

Through them, we learned the expedition was to be made primarily to explore this frigid region for the vast natural resources believed to be found there.

Immense preparations had to be made before the expedition could get under way: there was weather-resistant clothing for all the men to be fitted, "huskies" to be trained and conditioned for dog-sledding, a tremendous amount of supplies to be stored in the holds of the ships and the ships to be rigged for the sub-zero temperatures that they would be enduring.

THE SMALL FLEET of expedition ships was divided into two groups, and the plan was that the first group, including heavy ice-breaking ships, communication and supply ships, and an aircraft carrier, was to leave first from the west coast. A little later Admiral Byrd, aboard the flagship Mount Olympus, was to leave from Norfolk, travel through the Panama canal and then sail south.

Although the expedition was scheduled to take place during the best possible sailing weather, we watched the first group, somewhere off the southern tip of South America, endure one of the most raging storms probably ever photographed at sea.

Sky and sea were a frothy, black haze, and powerful swells lifted the hulls of the tremendous vessels as much as twenty to thirty feet into the angry ocean.

Surely, it must be a terrifying experience to be at sea in what you consider a sturdy ship, and under these conditions, feel the ocean's unharnessed strength and power to toss you about like a leaf on a pond!

AS THE SHIPS APPROACHED Antarctica, the greatest hazard was the icebergs, of which only about one-eighth can be seen above water. In the picture, they loomed white and glistening and silent — as if daring the ships to come any nearer. The ships moved cautiously between these mountains of ice and before long reached the ice fields. As far as the eye could see, stretched this flat expanse of solid snow-covered ice.

It was time for the heavy duty ice-breaking vessels to go into action. The bows of these ships were so designed they could ride up on the ice, and then, because of their great weight, could come down heavily enough to break the thick ledges, thereby cutting a path for the other ships to follow.

AS SOON AS LAND was reached, the men, with the use of caterpillar tractors, started unloading the supplies and pitching tents. I don't see how these tents withstood the terrible blizzard which came shortly after the crew arrived. Terrific gales of snow swept across the tundra and over the camp, covering tractors, jeeps and tents, and damaging one of the airplanes.

As soon as Admiral Byrd and the second group arrived, plans were made for a flight over the South Pole and along the coastline, to explore and photograph.

What was white, crystal-like plains before, when flying high above was a shimmering, pale blue-green sea.

Among the most interesting observations made on the flight, was a mountain of coal and, miles inland, a deep blue lake with no sign of ice on it, set like a jewel surrounded by clay-colored, snow-patched peaks. The only explanation for this strange body of water was that it was constantly fed by warm underground streams.

TRAGEDY STRUCK the crew flying over the Arctic coastline. One of the planes crashed and was lost for almost two weeks. When it was at last sighted, and a rescue party arrived, it was found that two of the men had been killed in the crash and the survivors were suffering from severe exposure and exhaustion.

Before the explorers left, Admiral Byrd found the place where his camp had been seventeen years ago. A short piece of black pipe projected out of the snow, and after some digging, a cylinder- like chimney came into view. Admiral Byrd knew this was the chimney of his former shack, and since it was large enough for a man to slip through, he allowed himself to be lowered into the cabin. When he was lifted out he had in his hand an untarnished, kerosene lamp and frozen food — still good after seventeen years!

This film was an outstanding record of the breath-taking beauty found on the land and waters of the Polar regions, and of the valor and courage of the men who were there.

My love,

Patty

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

I cannot help feeling sorry for bachelors, poor victims of their own misunderstandings.

Bachelors often boast about their freedom, and the joy they get from wine, women and song; or rant about the pure joy of living a life of solitude, with no one to answer to except themselves.

But almost every married man who is honest about it will agree that marriage is the happiest state for man or woman.

AS FOR MYSELF, I was about the most unhappy person that ever lived before I was married. And the tragic part about it was that I didn't realize it. Somehow, a fellow never grows up until he holds his own baby in his arms, and, looking down at the ugly little bit of flesh and bone that bleats like a lost lamb, calls it his own and loves it.

Folks never really live until they start living for their child, plan, dream, and worry about it. A man never gets that good, wholesome feeling, almost a feeling of awe, until he experiences his fatherly duty of guiding and correcting his own child.

OF COURSE, children are not always fun—at least not until some of the things they do are corrected and mama and papa talk it over together afterward. I remember how gosh-awful mad I was the night my boy wore my good pants to a party and came home with a tear in the leg and a rip in the seat; or how my wife and I laughed when we talked it over later and saw the humorous side of it.

Wiping dishes and helping clean house aren't always fun, but somehow, working with the wife around the house gives a fellow a feeling of companionship and cooperation that a bachelor never experiences with a wine and song companion.

BUYING A HOME and fixing it up is lots of fun most of the time and gives a fellow a feeling of security and stability that no bachelor in his apartment could ever have.

Maybe there are moments when a fellow might wish he was single again; but they are transitory and of little importance; because most every married man soon realizes how wonderful it is to have the love of a good wife and the admiration, love and faith of little children for his own.

Parties For Vets

Salvation Army cadets and lassies will hand over their shiny brass bells and red Christmas kettles to more than 200 members of the Chicago junior association of commerce and industry for two-hour periods December 17 and 18 to raise funds for Christmas parties for hospitalized veterans.

● DOWN THE RIVER?

Have the nationalist minded Republicans of the west who faithfully followed their favorite senator, Robert Taft, into the Eisenhower camp and helped to make possible his great victory been sold down the river by Eisenhower now that the election is over and he is safely on the way to the White House?

It begins to look that way, to say the least. While Eisenhower was campaigning through the west and central west he was talking so much along the line of Senator Taft's views that both Truman and Stevenson raced up and down the country calling him the captive of Taft and the conservative wing of the Republican party. Then after the election, as the appointments to cabinet posts began to be made public, it became sadly apparent that the recommendations of Senator Taft, which had been asked for by Eisenhower, were being very largely ignored and that the Dewey eastern internationalist group were being given the key posts in government right and left.

During the campaign little was heard of Tom Dewey and his crowd, Senator Lodge of Mass. couldn't even get back to the senate against the votes of real Republicans who were outraged by his new deal voting record yet once the election is over and that same Lodge emerges as one the "fair-haired" boys.

Senator Taft campaigned actively and enthusiastically for Eisenhower urging his loyal followers to join him in sticking to the ship and making the party a winning team. So successful was he in swinging his followers into line that the cry of Ike's being a captive candidate of Taft and his followers rose in a loud wail from the opposition. But now that the election is over what's happened, the same old eastern crowd has taken over the party and Senator Taft and his millions of followers have been snubbed and ignored.

The only reason that Eisenhower made a fighting campaign was that Taft convinced him that that sort of campaign was the only one that would win. Then after the big victory the fighters are left out in the cold and the same old "me too" gang that lost two campaigns for Tom Dewey are in the saddle once more and the fighting nationalist Republicans, loyal followers of Senator Taft, Mr. Republican himself, have once more been sold down the river.

Not that we are greatly surprised at what has happened, that's the way millions of Taft followers figured it would be but we had hoped for better things and there are millions of Republicans who are disappointed and discouraged. It looks after all like Col. McCormick's American party, a combine of western Republicans and southern Democrats might, after all, be the real solution of the muddled political picture. Meanwhile even the disillusioned nationalist Republicans are hoping for the best, hoping that Ike somehow or other may make good the hopes and dreams of the vast army of voters that made possible his victory but while they are still hoping they've got their fingers crossed at the same time.

A sell out this early in the game isn't much encouragement regardless of who was responsible for his election. Ike seems to be paying off in key government jobs to the crowd that engineered his nomination. One look at the cabinet and other key appointments are enough to convince anyone of that fact.

● VILLAGE MANAGERS

Palatine folks seem to be pretty well satisfied with the way their elected officials are running their government. At least they aren't clamoring for a change in the system. That fact was emphasized last Tuesday night when only a handful of people turned out for a public hearing on the village management form of government.

From the standpoint of attendance the meeting was a flop although those who did attend heard some interesting facts about the village manager plan especially as it relates to Brookfield, whose village manager was the speaker of the evening. Conditions at Brookfield were a lot different however than they have been at Palatine. Here there have been no 10% kick backs on purchases for the village and no one ever heard of any local candidate for village trustee spending $2,000 to get elected to the job. According to the speaker those things have happened at Brookfield.

Different towns have different problems and the officials of various towns handle the affairs of their towns differently. In Palatine the village clerk has always been recognized as the "complaint man" where people go to make their complaints about anything. He has always been "the buffer" and go-between between the public and the village board. That the village clerks of Palatine have done a consistently good job over the years in the eyes of the public is evidenced by the fact that in our memory no village clerk who was a candidate for re-election has ever been beaten, they have held the job as long as they wanted it and then passed on to other fields of activity.

Such a record shows a public satisfaction with the way things have gone and accounts for the lack of public interest in a change in management.

All local departments are functioning smoothly and harmoniously and the need for an overall boss from outside is not apparent to the public in general at this time according to the interest shown in last week's meeting.

Palatine elects its public officials and as long as they perform satisfactorily the public in general seems to see no need for a change.

When they do see such a need they make their opinions felt at the village elections. They have done this many times in the past and can be trusted to do the same thing if the need arises at any time in the future.

John Morris who makes frequent trips to Canada in connection with the coal business reports that the rate of exchange on American money has been reduced since the big election of November 4th.

Back in September the rate was 5% — that is American money was worth 5% less in Canada than it was on this side of the line. After the American election John reports that the rate of exchange was only 2%. An American dollar was worth three cents more in November than it was in September. "Don't mention this to Roy La Londe" says John, "it might make him feel bad."

● STRANGE VISITOR

A short time ago we mentioned a gray squirrel that had taken up residence in the east part of town. Mrs. Charles Klopp of N. Benton st. tells us about a black squirrel that is seen frequently in that neighborhood. Mrs. Klopp says that it is apparently a young animal — one of last spring's crop and that it is entirely black.

Such an animal is an unusual sight; a person often sees a squirrel with a black stripe on its back or the breast may have a black stripe but a coal black squirrel is really a novelty in this area. We wonder where this unusual visitor came from and if he will continue to make his home in this area.

● TRAPPING

Reports of good catches of muskrats and quite a few mink are being made by boys who are running trap lines this winter. The muskrat crop seems to be particularly good and nearly every slough and small pond has its share of muskrat houses. In one small marsh we saw thirteen houses and in a little low spot in a field near a road there were six houses.

The boys who are trapping also report that prices on furs are good this winter and a good many boys are going to make themselves some real spending money. As always the trappers are having their troubles with trap thieves who not only steal the catch but also the traps. It seems that this gentry are always around to pester the trappers and no matter how early the boys get up to go over their trap lines the poachers seem to be a little ahead of them on many occasions.

The trouble with having traps stolen is as old as trapping. There always seems to be a certain number of poachers who are waiting to take advantage of the other fellows work and equipment.

● SKATING

Just when the ice gets frozen deep enough to permit skating along came the snow and spoiled the kids' fun. We saw quite a few skaters on small ponds November 30 and the larger bodies of water were beginning to freege over in good shape, but the snow and milder weather that followed spoiled the fun. Playground director Dick Welty of the Palatine park district is wondering how he is going to get ice this winter. He has made a couple of test floodings and the water all disappears from under the ice.

Dick says that he's got the sewer shut off so that the water won't go down the drain but still it gets away. Well the ground got awfully dry last fall and it may be still absorbing all the water, although the park skating rink is supposed to have a clay base that will hold water. Dick says that if he can't get water to stay in the rink he'll flood some other area for a skating pond. Maybe those would-be tennis courts with their gravel base might do the trick. One great trouble in having a skating pond on a flooded rink has always been getting the water to stay put after flooding an area.

That disappearing water has given many skating pond promoters a bad headache over the years.

● SANTA ARRIVES

Santa Claus officially opened the Christmas season in Palatine last Saturday afternoon when he arrived by airplane and took over the town in the largest winter parade and celebration in the history of the town. Through streets lined with thousands of spectators the big parade ushered Santa into town.

Now Santa you know is partial to sleigh travel and this flying around in thin air didn't make any great hit with him at first but because of the lack of good snow for sleighing he finally consented to come in by air and after his arrival he admitted that he really enjoyed the trip.

But he wasn't going to be denied some of his natural environment and on the big truck that was his chariot in the parade he brought along his gaily decorated sleigh even tho he did have to leave the reindeers at home.

With the official arrival of old Santa the Christmas season was in full swing and the local business houses enjoyed a brisk Saturday business. The stores will be open evenings from now until Christmas to accommodate all the folks who want to do their trading in Palatine and save themselves the annoyance of big city crowds. Local business houses have just about everything on earth to select from so. why try to trade elsewhere?

Something Nice

I don't know why Mac's always knocking Arlington Heights township high school sports and its teams. It seems that he's always saying something about the other schools but he never says anything of importance about this school.

I may be prejudiced for Arlington high school, but I think it only fair to those involved that a few nice things could be said about that school.

I realize that this school hasn't had much to talk about lately but at least they keep trying to make good. Using last week's Herald as an example, Palatine was favored by the paper, but lost to the Cardinals.

In today's paper very little was said about the team and its players.

Mailman, Too

Seems like the guy disagrees violently with me in the first part of his letter, then comes around to my side at the end.

I am rather deeply religious myself, but to people without the religious background to help them out, it is rather hard loving a man's soul, or a woman's either, at the particular time that they are in your hair. Maybe you get mad because you love them so much what they say or think means a great deal to you.

However that may be, the wife and I have "practiced what I preached" in that little article, and it works out swell. And as for loving the other party's soul —well, the average mortal isn't built that way. I've seen people who profess to be, and I believe them, real Christians, so darn mad at one another that they even forget the fifth commandment. So mad they don't speak to one another for weeks on end.

More Cars

Nearly 52,217,000 vehicles were registered in the country at the end of 1951 compared to 49,143,000 in 1950.

Lightweight Champs

In Mac's column of a few weeks back regarding LaGrange, you state prior to '47 they never won a "lightweight football" crown. I believe that if you check your records you will find that the team of 1934 was undefeated. I happen to recall this because I was a member of the team—can't stand your spoiling our record, even at this date.

More Arlington

I have just finished reading the Arlington Heights Herald sport page and have found it to be predominantly Palatine. Maybe I am wrong but I thought an Arlington paper should deal mostly Arlington sports. Palatine's victory over Ela-Vernon was given more space and a spot on the first page of the sport section while a Palatine loss (to Arlington) was given less space and was stuck on the second page.

ED.:—First sport tabulation shows Arlington and West Suburban getting 40 inches of coverage, Palatine and the Northwest 45. Palatine-Ela game happened 24 hours before publication, Arlington-Palatine 168 hours. Northwest had double slate of games played, West Suburban none.

Lighted Home Expresses Holiday Happiness Within

Let your home express your Christmas spirit. A gaily lighted house is tangible evidence of the holiday warmth and cheer within. Use your own ideas for original designs taking full advantage of architectural features of your house. Bells and stars used to decorate the home pictured above are products of the home workshop.

Large or small, new or old, any home takes on a festive appearance when lighted for the holidays. Gay colored lights twinkling through feathery greens help reflect the holiday warmth and cheer indoors.

Whether you make your own decorations or buy ready-made commercial ones, it's not too early to start planning your outdoor decorations.

Early Planning

Early planning will pay dividends toward getting the most out of your equipment. If you're decorating your home for the first time, consider the architectural features of the house. They may suggest a natural pattern for the lights to follow.

In the new home pictured above, notice how the filigree design around the entrance provides a perfect background for the lights and greens.

Make Own Bells

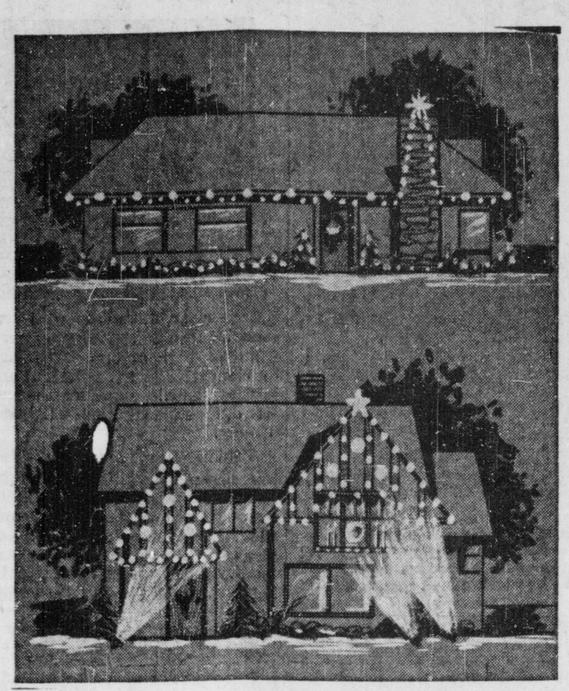
The large picture window also becomes an important feature of the design with its trio of lighted bells.

The bells, fashioned in a home workshop, were cut from masonite, painted white and dusted with artificial snow. The bells were then outlined with red bulbs in sockets. (Sockets and wiring were concealed from view by covering the backs of the bells with aluminum foil.) Notice how one lighted bulb serves as a clapper on each bell. To complete the arrangement the lighted bells are "tied" together with graceful loops of tinsel and satin bows.

Blue stars in the upstairs front windows and lighted candelabras at each side of the picture window complete the design.

For homemakers who are all thumbs when making things there are several styles of ready-made stars, bells and candles available.

Follow Architectural Lines Of House When Planning Outdoor Xmas Lighting



Don't overlook the architectural features of your house when planning outdoor decorations, say General Electric holiday lighting specialists.

Sometimes just the slant of a roof top or gables can suggest a design for outdoor lights.

As sketched at the top above, modern ranch-type homes often suggest a horizontal pattern of lighting. Notice how lights on the drawing are carried along the eaves until they reach the chimney where they follow its line in a sharp upward sweep.

For the older home, gables often create a natural pattern to follow when installing lights. In addition to colored lights, spotlights with color caps are placed in front of the house to bathe it in soft green light.

Baked Enamel Finishes Are Colorful, Durable

Colorful liquid plastic enamel, oven-baked onto modern metal furniture, is adding atmosphere to thousands of new interiors, in all walks of life. Offices, hospitals, schools, hotels, beauty shops and stores of all types are gaining extra color accents because of the wartime development of these enamel finishes which are almost as durable as the steel tubing they adorn.

Modern metal chairs are dipped into solutions of this plastic enamel and then over-baked for 30 minutes at 300 degrees Fahrenheit. The range of colors is almost limitless because any solid color can be successfully duplicated in these "Plastelle" finishes. The regular range of colors maintained by one Chicago metal furniture manufacturer runs to 15, from light greys and greens to silver, mahogany, mocha, and harlequin red.

Brucellosis

The ring test for bovine brucellosis will detect nine out of ten infected herds in which one or more infected cows are lactating.

Holiday Hint

Christmas snapshots tell their story through the years. From outdoor snow scenes to indoor close-ups, picture-taking opportunities are limitless. Dad is sure to appreciate a gift like a Kodak camera for that treasured holiday picture-record.

Stomach Worms

Stomach worms and coccidiosis in feeder cattle can be a problem. Prompt diagnosis and treatment will prevent serious shrinkage. Animals that exhibit a persistent diarrhea should be viewed with suspicion.

Outdoor Holiday Lighting Laboratory Provides New Idea For Home Owners

Each year, hundreds of thousands of residents of northeastern Ohio make an annual pilgrimage to General Electric's Nela Park in Cleveland to enjoy a spectacular outdoor Christmas lighting display.

Although the yule-tide display has become tradition in Ohio, residents in other communities from coast-to-coast are also benefited. In this large outdoor laboratory, high on a hill overlooking Lake Erie, are born many of the holiday decorating ideas which home owners will eventually use for their own homes.

One practical idea which was featured on one of the small buildings at the entrance to the Park last year were special holiday window displays.

These attractive windows with lighted stars and candles provide a practical suggestion for anyone interested in building his own decoration.

As shown in the drawing at the right above, the display is built into a special frame that fits quickly and compactly into the window. Notice how holes bored to fit outdoor Christmas bulb sockets make it possible to wire the "picture" permanently in the comfort of a warm basement workshop. In addition to requiring only a few minutes to install from the outside, the holiday frame is easily stored from year-to-year with the household screens.

If you plan to make these holiday screens for your own home, G-E lighting specialists suggest the color indicated on the drawing as one combination.

Weekly Recipe

During the holidays you will want to serve cranberries in many ways. This week you will notice my recipe features them in a salad which is easy to prepare. The red of the salad combined with the white of the cottage cheese, served on a bed of green lettuce is a colorful addition to your meal. Here it is.

Cranberry Snow Salad

4 cups cranberries
1 large orange
1 cup sugar
2 packages of orange jell
2 cartons creamed cottage cheese

Method: Peel the orange with knife and remove the white inner portion of the skin. Remove the membrane from the orange sections. Using the coarse cutter of the food chopper, grind the orange sections, the yellow part of the orange peel, and the cranberries. Stir in the sugar and let the mixture stand over night. Dissolve two packages of orange jell in two cups of hot water, and add to the above mixture. Put in a ring mold which has been oiled with a bland oil and let set. When ready to serve, turn mold out on bed of green leaves, and fill the center with creamed cottage cheese.

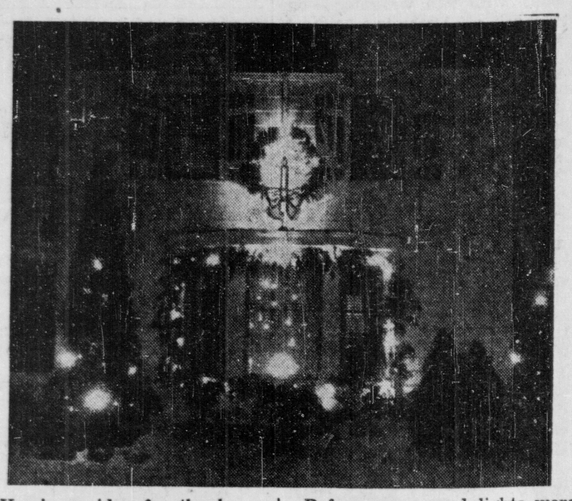
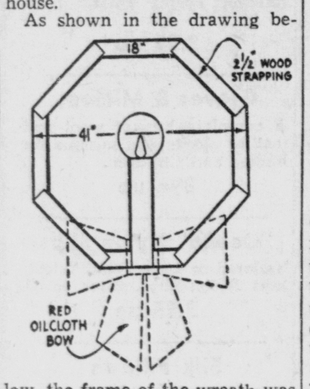
Make Your Own Lighted Wreath



Here's an idea for the household handyman who enjoys making his own outdoor decorations. The large lighted wreath on the home in the photograph above is the product of a home workshop and tailored especially for this house.

As shown in the drawing below, the frame of the wreath was made of wood strapping about two and one-half inches in diameter. Although each side of this octagon is 18 inches, you may want to design your wreath to a size better suited to your own house.



Before greens and lights were added to the wreath above, it was painted dark green to harmonize with the natural greens.

The half-cylinder candle in the center of the wreath was covered with translucent shower curtain material in plain white. As sketched at the left, the candle is fashioned over a simple frame of coat hanger wire with a wooden top and bottom. Porcelain sockets at top an bottom hold the flame-shaped bulb at the top and the regular 25-watt house hold bulb at the bottom which lights up the candle. Notice how a little door is provided at the bottom of the candle to allow convenient access to the lower bulb.

Christmas LIGHTING TIPS

Here's a tip from General Electric holiday lighting specialists which you'll want to keep in mind when putting up your outdoor lighted decorations.

Lighted strings of bulbs will be more effective if spaced close together. One simple way to accomplish this is to lay three strings on the ground and tape together as shown in the drawing at the right. Notice how by staggering the sockets they can be arranged about six inches apart instead of the usual 18 inches. When strings are taped together they may be hung in the usual manner.

Your local hardware is often the source of unusual materials for outdoor holiday lighting displays. If you're making your own decorations try using hardware cloth for candles, bells or cut-out figures. This translucent, screen like material may be tacked to simple wooden frames for effective displays.

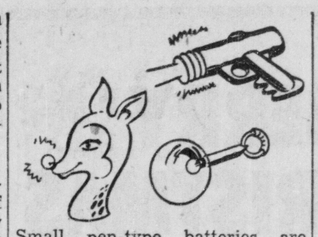
When choosing toys for youngsters don't overlook the magic of the lighted ones which are now available. Tiny bulbs no larger than a garden pea are concealed inside movie cameras, baby rattles, atomic ray guns, movie projectors and decorative lapel pins.



Small pen-type batteries are needed to keep the toys lighted so be sure to include an extra battery or two with your lighted gift toy.

Rezone Property

The Cook county board of commissioners adopted an amendment calling for rezoning from a farming to a light industry district of a 60-acre tract west of the Glenview naval air station on the north side of West Lake ave. between Pfingsten rd. and the Chicago and Northwestern right-of-way in Northfield township.

The Signode steel strapping company proposes to build a 6 million dollar plant on the above site.

Stained Glass Windows Portray The True Meaning Of Christmas

Here's a new idea in holiday decorating that will appeal to those who prefer to emphasize the true meaning of Christmas.

Simulated stained-glass window inserts in translucent plastic can quickly transform the windows of your home into miniature cathedral settings.

These stained-glass plastic inserts are available in several sizes and include scenes of The Nativity, Flight From Egypt, Three Kings of Orient and Shepherds.

In the large size 28x38 inches, plastic panels are edged in lightweight aluminum so that they may be "framed" in place with strips of wood. Other styles 20x28 are firm sheets of colored plastic which may be attached to the window glass with special tape.

When using plastic inserts, General Electric lighting specialists suggest lighting them from inside with a small 75-watt floodlight in a clamp-on type holder. Locate lamp about three feet from the window to get a smooth lighting effect.

Bits O' Business

Eighty million dollars' worth of equipment has been ordered to supply electric power to the Atomic Energy Commission's new Ohio River plant. . . . The mortgaged steak has become a reality. A Pittsburgh bank and a food dealer are cooperating with appliance sellers to keep food-freezers filled on a time-payment basis. . . . Water-power shortages in the Tennessee Valley and the Northwest have cut aluminum production 40 million pounds a month. . . . Retailers are going all-out for Christmas promotions to bring sales back up to 1951 levels.

Towel Luxury

EVERY HOMEMAKER on your list will welcome towels, especially when they're in lovely colors to match the bathroom's color scheme. For example, here's an attractive set, Cannon's new "Gold Feather." In a deep, round gold box, you'll give two bath towels, two wash cloths, and two miniature towels. They're all thirsty, deep-piled, hard-wearing terry. Select the towels in her favorite bathroom color — petal pink, aqua, sun gold, lightning pink, forest green or limelight. All this luxury is packed in a beautifully embossed gold box that needs no extra gift wrapping. Just add a big colorful bow to make it the prettiest package under the Christmas tree. Many a homemaker will save the box for later use to hold her sewing. This glamour costs less than five dollars, and you'll find it in the large stores near you! (ANS)

It's a wonderfully heart-warming time of the year . . . a time when families get together . . . when homes must look their best. May we suggest your visit here, whether you want something new for your home, to give it a lift for holiday time, or whether you want to choose FURNITURE . . . the best gift of all, for every name on your list. Just come in and browse to your heart's content. You will not be urged to buy.

And we also extend our heartiest wishes for a MERRY CHRISTMAS and a HAPPY NEW YEAR to all of our many friends

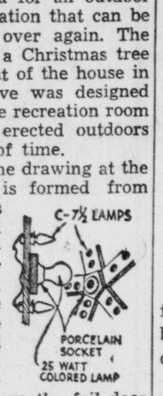
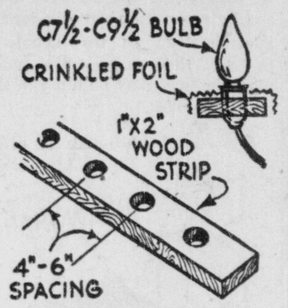
Shiny Giant Tree Spells Christmas

Here's an idea for an outdoor Christmas decoration that can be used over and over again. The large outline of a Christmas tree towering in front of the house in the picture above was designed in sections on the recreation room floor and then erected outdoors in a minimum of time.

As shown in the drawing at the right the tree is formed from wooden strips with holes bored at regular intervals for outdoor lighting sockets. Notice how the wood strips are then covered with aluminum foil to create highlights. (Be sure the foil does not get inside sockets or touch base of lamp.)



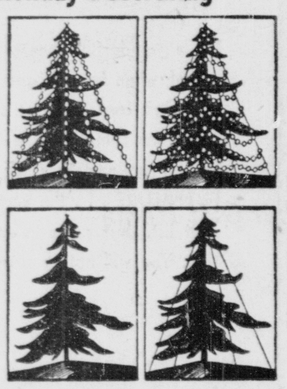
Atop the tree which is lighted with green bulbs is a white star. For those who are interested in fashioning a lighted star in the basement workshop, follow the design at the left.



Notice how red lighted candles in the upstairs windows are used to complete the design.

A 150-watt floodlight with a green color cap bathes the front of the house in soft green light.

Don't Let Whooper Jawed Trees Cramp Holiday Decorating



Don't let whopper-jawed shrubbery discourage your plans for outdoor Christmas decorating.

Those lop-sided evergreens in your front yard can be turned into symmetrical beauties with a few tricks of lighting.

Here are suggestions for ways General Electric holiday lighting experts "straighten up" whopper-jawed trees without interfering with their natural lines in the least.

As shown on the top left above, fasten two narrow pieces of wood with screw eyes to the upper part of the tree trunk. Tie firmly in place with tape. Now, as shown in the drawing at the top left, string wires from the screw eyes to the ground in a cone shape and fasten securely with wooden pegs driven into the ground.

Now, fasten strings of outdoor Christmas lights to the wires rather than to the branches of your tree.

As shown in the drawing left above, lights may be arranged vertically or, as sketched at the lower right above, in graceful loops, merely by draping strings of lights horizontally over the wire frame.

General Electric holiday lighting specialists point out that while this idea is particularly good for unshapely trees, it may also be used on perfectly shaped trees.

In The Future

Retailers can buy Christmas candy with two wrappings—one to shuck off December 26, leaving the inside one to sell the left-over stock without benefit of holiday spirit. . . . Twelve-denier nylon—the sheerest now made is 15 denier—may appear in womens' stockings next year. . . . The householder who changes his own fuses may soon be able to buy a plastic fuse-gripper to avoid shocks. . . . Gas and electric appliances will soon appear with safety knobs which children can't turn on. . . . A cash register has been developed which doubles as an adding machine when its recording device is thrown out of gear, and its maker is working on one which will record punch-card data on a tape for inventory control, etc.

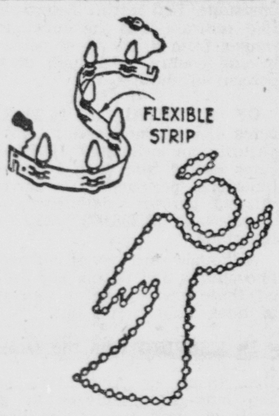
SHOPPING COLUMN



There are just about as many ways to decorate the outside of your house for the holidays as there are people in the world. However, dreaming up an attractive design and figuring out how to do it often seems like a bit of a project to many homeowners who want outdoor lighted decorations.

There's good news this year, however, in a new type of Christmas lighting equipment especially designed to take the guesswork out of "how-to-do" it and speed up the job.

A simple technique including strips of bulbs, makes it possible for every homeowner to accomplish outdoor holiday lighting displays with the flair of an expert designer.

This newest lighting product, as shown in the sketch above, is available completely wired and ready to use. Strips which are two, three and six feet in length come in both rigid and flexible styles. Also on the market are other shapes including stars, circles, diamonds, approximately 14 inches in diameter.

Simply by combining these two pieces of equipment, dozens of lighted patterns are possible. The manufacturer even includes a number of patterns for stars, wreaths, greetings, festoons, bells and other designs.

Strips use regular C-7½ and circles, C-9½ outdoor Christmas bulbs.

One of the greatest advantages of this new technique is its practicality, say General Electric lighting experts. Designs can be added to and changed from year to year. The equipment is as easy to store and handle as it is to put up.

Record Breaking Increase In Soil Conservation Recorded

A record-breaking increase in soil conservation on farms in North Cook county this past year was reported by Elmer Wente, chairman of the North Cook county soil conservation district's board of supervisors.

A total of 37 farmers became new cooperators with the district during the past 11 months, he said. Although the year is not yet over, the number already is increasing rapidly for a new district.

The local gain reflects a national increase reported by SCS, with 80 percent more new soil conservation district cooperators assisted in 1952 than in 1951. More than a quarter-million farmers in the nation became district cooperators for the first time last year, the report said. They raise the total to 1,120,000 farmers who are receiving SCS assistance through districts and who operate one-fourth of the nation's farm land.

LOCALLY, THE new cooperators bring to 37 the number of farmers who have requested technical assistance from Maurice M. Umbdenstock, soil conservation service farm planner for the district, and other SCS technicians whose services are available to the farmer. These cooperators farm 2135 acres of land in the district.

"This increased demand indicates that our district, established only two years ago, is a going concern of real value to the farmer," the chairman said. "He's learning that soil conservation pays off."

Mr. Wente pointed out that, in addition to its regular work, the soil conservation service has furnished technical assistance on permanent-type practices such as strip cropping, contouring, drainage and waterways, to 14 farmers referred to it by the county production and marketing administration committee. Of these, 12 were already cooperators and 2 became cooperators.

THIS ADDITIONAL responsibility for checking lay-out and installation of these practices, for which the PMA provides financial assistance, was assigned to SCS in 1951 by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

By the end of the year, Wente predicts, the number of permanent practices applied on local farms will lead the way for an increasing number each year.

"The increased accomplishments in prospect this year is due largely to our procedure of progressive planning." Mr. Umbdenstock, local farm planner, explained. "This system allows farmers to become cooperators immediately and get help from us with practices that will eventually become part of their basic farm plan."

This way, he said, a farmer need not wait for a complete, rounded farm plan. He can start gradually and move progressively into conservation farming.

CHAIRMAN WENTE also said a still greater increase in conservation farming is expected as a consequence of the recent realignment of SCS field forces, which will place more technical help in direct assistance to the farmer.

Nationally, more permanent-type measures were applied to the country's farms and ranches during the 1952 fiscal year than in any other year in the history of the SCS.

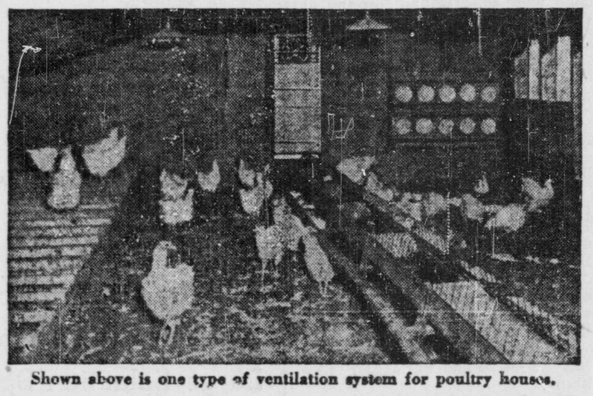
Poultrymen Have Problems . . .

But Ventilation Helps Solve Big Ones

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

Poultrymen, too, have problems. So let's worry with them for a few minutes while we discuss one of their biggest headaches—ventilation. And, that means more than a system capable of only changing the air in the poultry house regularly, as important as that may be. It must do other things as well, such as keeping the litter dry, holding the house temperature above 20 degrees Fahrenheit, and maintaining inside humidity below 75%.



Shown above is one type of ventilation system for poultry houses.

A ventilation system which will answer the farmer's requirements will save him time in cleaning eggs and changing litter; keep flocks healthy and laying satisfactorily. Also, it will protect the life of the poultry house by preventing the condensation of moisture on the walls and nail heads.

Stale poultry house air contains a heavy concentration of ammonia fumes . . . and 1,000 birds will deposit as much as 50 gallons of water in litter droppings every 24 hours. So let's see how both fumes and water can be removed while conserving a maximum of the heat given off by the chickens—the latter, a must if we are to keep the house warm.

The motor-driven ventilation fan selected should be capable of removing 2 cubic feet of air per minute for each 5-pound bird in an uninsulated house. In warmer, insulated houses this fan capacity can be increased to 3 cfm. Two fans may be used in larger houses, with one of them being thermostatically controlled. One-fan systems operate continuously. With 2-fan systems, both fans operate continuously in mild weather, but the one connected to the thermostat shuts off automatically in cold weather. Fans should be installed near the ceiling.

Fresh air is brought into the house through inlet openings. These should be properly designed and correctly located. A simple baffle type inlet that directs air along the wall and down, toward and across the floor will work satisfactorily. Each intake should have an inside area of 60 square inches, with one intake installed for each 80 birds, or 400 pounds of fowl weight.

Here are some other tips for the poultryman: use a built-up litter of finely broken absorbent material; distribute the feeders and waterers over the largest possible floor area to prevent heavy concentrations of wet droppings in two or three areas.

Egg Market Shifts Call For Hen Changes

Shifts in the egg marketing picture in the past few years make it more important than ever to get chicks started early in the year.

E. E. Broadbent, poultry and egg marketing specialist in the Illinois College of Agriculture, reports that the highest egg prices now come from about September 1 through December 15, the months of lowest supply. A few years ago the highest prices were received later, in the winter months.

Alert poultrymen, Broadbent says, have kept an eye on this trend and have adjusted their production to take advantage of the high-priced market.

MOST BABY chicks are sold in April and start laying about six months later, in October. By the time they have passed the pullet egg stage, the high market prices are almost gone and the producer has missed the best chance for good profits.

Since the high prices seem to be coming earlier each year, buying chicks in January would help solve this problem, Broadbent says. Then good production would be reached in August, just when the price starts to climb.

Broadbent adds, however, that early chick delivery calls for early planning. Producers who want chicks delivered in January should be ordering their replacements now.

Nearly One-Half Soils Deficient In Limestone

Almost half of the soils in Illinois are low in limestone, reports A. U. Thor, University of Illinois soils specialist.

Every county in Illinois has some soil that is deficient in limestone. Soil testing records for 1951 indicate that the deficiency ranged from a low of 11 percent in one county to a high of 86 percent in another.

OF A TOTAL of 26,208,710 acres of crop land and plowable pasture, an estimated 10,888,452 acres lacked from 2 to 5 tons of limestone per acre. To correct this 43 percent deficiency, it would take 28,238,002 tons of limestone.

Although supplies of nitrogen, phosphorus and potash are limited, there seems to be no shortage of lime, Thor points out.

IN KEEPING with the recently launched drive by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the land-grant colleges to get more efficient use of fertilizers and lime, farmers are urged to have their soil tested and apply recommended amounts of limestone.

Thor reports that 80 counties now have accredited farm bureau soil testing laboratories. In addition, there are 18 commercially operated accredited soil testing laboratories, plus the central university laboratory located at 218 Davenport hall, Urbana.

Doctors and Lawyers

The earnings of doctors and lawyers have risen steadily. Doctors earned an average of $11,058 in 1949, $12,518 in 1951 — a jump of 13 per cent. Lawyers' average earnings rose from $8,577 to $9,375 — an increase of 9%.

ACP Sign-up Now Under Way

The sign-up for the 1953 agricultural conservation program is now under way, according to a statement issued by Carl M. Bormet of the local PMA committee.

"For this purpose, community committeemen are contacting their neighbors right out on the farm," said Mr. Bormet. "They will have all the necessary papers and information to complete the sign-up while they are there."

THIS IS the program under which incentive payments are made to assist and encourage farmers to carry out approved soil conservation practices. All farmers are eligible to participate and it is urged that they do so. Good soil is one of the greatest assets of each farmer—it is likewise one of the nation's greatest resources.

"In this sign-up campaign," continued Mr. Bormet, "we ask that all farmers cooperate wholeheartedly with their committeemen. Not only will they be in a position to discuss conservation, but they will have available important information on corn loans and purchase agreements — and the requirements for eligible storage."

Illinois 4-H'ers Win $50 Savings Bonds

Three of the 1952 Illinois state winners in national 4-H awards programs have been named as winners of $50 U.S. Savings Bonds. They are Norma Gaitsch, 20, Bensenville; Donald C. Westfall, 19, Cissna Park; and Kenneth R. Walker, 18, Windsor.

National 4-H awards programs are conducted under the direction of the Extension Service of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, in cooperation with the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work and the USDA.

State winner in the national Frozen Foods awards program is the reward of Norma Gaitsch for the excellence of her project work in frozen foods. A member of the Triple D 4-H club, she has been a club member for 8 years.

Norma Gaitsch

"Freezing has helped me in preparing meals for my family both from the economical and the nutritious standpoints," Norma says. "When I decide to cook or prepare any food that takes quite a while, I usually double the amount to save time and money. I serve one portion and then put the second half into a container to be frozen. Also, when I bake I make more than one article while I am in the process and then store what I don't use in the freezer for unseen and needed times. Our home freezer makes unexpected company a pleasure instead of an emergency."

Treat Cattle With Rotenone To Control Grubs On Farms

Treat your cattle with rotenone, and they'll have less trouble with cattle grubs this winter and heel flies next summer.

Dr. N. D. Levine, animal parasite specialist, University of Illinois college of veterinary medicine, says grubs make cattle mighty uncomfortable during the winter as they bore through the flesh of the cow's back. And in the summer, as heel flies, they frighten the cattle causing them to run wildly around the pasture.

If you have only a few cattle, dust a 1½ percent rotenone powder on each animal's back and work it in. Or with a large herd, run the animals one at a time through a runway, and spray them with 7½ pounds of 5 percent rotenone powder in 100 gallons of water at 400 pounds' pressure.

Dr. Levine adds that all of the grubs don't reach the animals' backs at the same time. So for best results treat the cattle once a month from late December through April.

Saturday College of Agriculture TV Shows Reaching More Farmers

Since moving to the Saturday noon spot, 12 noon to 12:30 p.m., Farm and Home Time, the 30-minute University of Illinois college of agriculture TV show is being received by a larger farm audience, reports farm adviser Carl F. Mees.

The show will continue to feature specialists from the University of Illinois campus with the latest in farm and home information over WBKB, channel 4.

Legumes Can Supply 150 Lbs. Nitro Per Acre

Can legumes alone supply enough nitrogen for a 100-bushel corn crop?

C. M. Linsley, University of Illinois soils sepcialist, says the answer is yes — if a heavy crop of legumes is produced. Average yields probably won't do the job.

An acre of good legumes through their nitrogen-fixing bacteria can take 150 or more pounds of nitrogen from the air in one growing season. And there's no shortage of nitrogen in the air, Linsley says. Over each acre of farm land there are 35,000 tons of free nitrogen.

IF THE legumes are plowed under, all of the nitrogen from the crop would be quickly changed into a form other crops can use.

If the crop is pastured or cut for hay and fed, and the manure is returned to the soil, probably only about half, or 75 pounds, of nitrogen would be found in each acre of soil. With a livestock program, however, Linsley says that the manure from the corn and other crops fed will likely also be returned to the soil. This nitrogen returned in manure, instead of being sold off the farm in the form of grain, will supplement the 75 pounds of nitrogen from the legumes.

THE 150 POUNDS of nitrogen produced by an acre of good legumes is equal to an application of 450 pounds of ammonium nitrate (33%) or 750 pounds of ammonium sulfate (20%).

Linsley points out that where only poor crops of legumes are grown, or where corn follows corn, the legume nitrogen will probably need to be supplemented with a nitrogen fertilizer.

In addition to their value of nitrogen suppliers, legumes add organic matter, improving soil tilth and reducing erosion.

Annual Sheep Breeders Sale December 13

The annual bred ewe consignment sale of the Illinois purebred sheep breeders' association will be held December 13 at the University of Illinois, Urbana. The sale starts at 1 p.m. in the stock pavilion.

U. S. Garrigus, head of the sheep division at the College of Agriculture and manager of the sale, reports that 77 ewes representing the eight major breeds of sheep have been consigned to the sale. Entries will be ready for inspection at 10 a.m.

As usual, 10 percent discount will be allowed on all ewes purchased by Illinois 4-H and FFA members. Garrigus says this is a fine opportunity for these boys to get good foundation ewes for their future flocks.

Consignors guarantee that the ewes offered at the sale will be breeders if properly handled. The consignor agrees to replace any animal sold if it is not a breeder, or to refund the purchase price.

Anyone wanting to bid on the ewes who cannot be at the sale may mail bids to H. G. Russell, G. R. Carlisle or W. J. Hampton, 110 stock pavilion, University of Illinois, Urbana. H. Earl Wright, Mt. Gilead, O., will auctioneer the sale.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

With bar lights you can easily make movies in any room of the house—including the nursery on Christmas Eve.

Your Christmas Ought to Be in Movies

IF YOU'VE never made home movies, Christmas seems to be one of the best times imaginable to begin. There's color, action, gayety. Christmas is a frankly sentimental season, and the pictures we all treasure most are those we make and keep for purely sentimental reasons.

Movie cameras and projectors are popular Christmas gifts—from the family to the family, from the family to Dad, or whatever way it happens to work out. In most cases I'm wholeheartedly in favor of the "Do Not Open Until Christmas" stickers and think their admonition should be followed. But in the case of the family's first movie camera, I think it is a gift for early giving so that it can be used throughout the holiday. Or, at least, be sure there's a liberal supply of film with it so movie making can start first thing on Christmas morn.

A very nice accessory item that really should be included with the gift—or which can be a gift in itself if your family already enjoys a movie camera—is a set of bar lights. These will make indoor picture taking a snap. As the name suggests, it is a bar with a holder for a photoflood lamp on either end. There is a place in the center of the bar to attach the camera. Plug the cord in the nearest light socket and you can move about freely—within the limits of the cord. I think they're as much of a boon to indoor movie shooting as flash on the camera is for still picture taking.

You'll certainly want to do your movie making in color. No one, it seems, uses black-and-white film except for special purposes any more. The color costs very little more and pays off tremendous dividends in pleasure and satisfaction.

The best advice as to how to make movies I can give to the new owner of a movie camera is—follow the directions that come with camera and film. Then you can't go wrong. There is nothing difficult about movie making. It's in some ways simpler than making still pictures. You don't have to ask your subject to be still. You can catch him on the run. Use your movie camera to record motion—don't waste its talents on still-type snapshots.

—John Van Guilder

In Germany

Pvt. Thomas M. King, whose wife, Rae Joyce, lives at 407 Green st., Bensenville, recently graduated from a 43rd infantry division non-commissioned officers leaders school in southern Germany.

He was selected to attend the school on the basis of his military bearing, leadership potential and proven ability in the line of duty.

Its graduates insure the unit of the highest caliber of non-commissioned officers.

Private King, a rifleman in Company L of the division's 172d regiment, entered the army in February of this year and arrived overseas on September 10.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall D. King, live at 317 Edgewood st., Wood Dale.

The Illinois soldier is a former employee of the Milwaukee railroad.

In Korea

Army Sgt. Robert H. Wolff, Sacramento, Calif., can count on at least two hot meals a day, despite other discomforts of the Korean winter.

His unit sends hot, freshly-prepared food to its men when their combat duties prevent them from going to a rear area mess hall at mealtime.

Wolff, who arrived in the combat zone last January, has been serving as a communications specialist with headquarters company of the 7th infantry division's 32nd regiment.

He has been awarded the combat infantryman badge and the Korean service ribbon with one battle star.

Gift Suggestions

What To Send GIs Now In Hospitals

Persons who wish to send Christmas gifts to patients in VA hospitals are reminded by veterans administration that certain others are not needed.

VA said candies, cookies and other sweets are not permitted in the diet of diabetics, and that certain other foods are restricted according to the individual medical requirements of other patients.

However, bulk gifts of Yuletide goodies and seasonal package foods are acceptable for distribution to patients by the managers.

SINCE VA hospitals normally buy sufficient quantities of magazines, playing cards, puzzles and games, gifts of this kind are not in demand.

VA is not permitted to make public the names of veteran-patients, so gift donors are requested by the agency not to ask for the names of patients for use in sending gifts and correspondence. VA said such persons may send their gifts to the hospital managers for presentation to patients.

Because of numerous requests for a listing of Christmas presents that are considered most appropriate for veteran-patients, VA suggested the following items:

BOOKS OF canteen tickets (in denominations of $1 and $5), which veterans can use in shopping at VA canteens. These books can be bought from the canteen or special service office at any VA hospital, domiciliary or other sizable VA installation. The purchaser should request the selling office to deliver the books to the recipient.

Cigarettes, cigars, pipe tobacco and smoking utilities, such as lighters.

Sundry toilet articles, such as shaving lotion and hairdressing.

Stationery, fountain pens, automatic pencils, etc.

Handkerchiefs, socks and other suitable haberdashery.

New or selected phonograph records, to suit the patient's musical tastes.

In Korea

Cpl. Richard D. Ramlow, whose wife Edna, lives on NW highway, Palatine, recently had an opportunity to catch up on his Christmas shopping in Japan while on a five-day rest and recuperation leave from the 2nd infantry division in Korea.

The vacation is part of the army's policy to give the front-line soldiers respite from combat. At the same time soldiers at the "R and R" hotels have been afforded opportunities to visit the well-stocked army stores (post exchanges) established for their convenience and holiday shopping. Packaging and mailing services are set up at most of these centers.

Corporal Ramlow, a cannoneer, entered the army in October 1951 and joined the 2nd in April.

Home From Germany

Cpl. John Lauffenburger, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Lauffenburger of Rand rd., Palatine, has returned to the U. S. after serving at the Rhine main air base at Frankfurt, Germany, for 17 months. He was separated from service at Camp McCoy, Wis.

In Korea

Army pvt. Clarence J. Caba, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Caba, 16 W. 575 White Pine rd., Bensenville, recently arrived in Korea and is now serving with the 7th infantry division.

Since making the amphibious landing at Inchon in the fall of 1950, the 7th division has fought in every sector of the Korean peninsula. Elements of the 7th were the only U. S. forces to reach the Yalu river.

Private Caba, who entered the army in November 1951, arrived in Korea November 3 of this year.

In Korea

Pvt. Arthur Eling Jr., Roselle, has been awarded the combat infantryman badge for his action under enemy fire in Korea.

He is with the 40th infantry division.

In Korea

Now in Korea is Pfc. Ray Lauffenburger of Palatine, where he is stationed in Pusan. His address is Pfc. Ray Lauffenburger, 428th Eng. W/S Co., APO 59, % PM, San Francisco, Calif.

Wire Screen Stops Rodents That Eat Tender Tree Bark

Rabbits and field mice are apt to enjoy extended field days gnawing the bark of young trees unless you do something about it.

When snow blankets the ground and foraging gets tough for the rodents, they'll sate their hunger by eating the bark off delectable ornamentals and fruit trees. Many thousands of trees are girdled and die from these lethal appetities.

Yet it's easy to thwart rodent attacks on vulnerable trees, points out H. J. Rice, field representative of the Davey tree expert company. Simply erect a wire screen around trees or shrubs that need protection.

Ordinary quarter inch mesh galvanized wire will do nicely. If you bend them into cylinders from 18 inches to two feet high, you'll have protection that can probably serve for several seasons. Keep the screen several inches from the tree trunk and see that it is placed firmly in the ground. Without secure anchorage, mice may be able to burrow under and get at the bark.

The tougher the winter, the more likely widespread depredations by the rodens. Prognosticators, including the wooly bear caterpillar, have been heralding an unusually severe winter. According to confirmed believers, the lines on the back of the wooly bear caterpillar are the barometer. This year, the width of the lines is said to indicate severe weather.

So take a tip from the wolly bear and the tree expert, and safeguard vulnerable plants from sharp-toother marauders.

CHRISTMAS 1952

THE HOLIDAY BUFFET this year can be as festive as usual with a lot less time and effort—it can, in fact, be as easy as pie! Just introduced in time for the happy season is the new Baker's Coconut pie crust, consisting of nothing more than shredded coconut and butter. The new crust is sure, delicious, and made in minutes. Fill it with a dressed-up package pie filling mix for the ultimate in labor-saving! With recipes like this, the night before Christmas can be as peaceful for tomorrow's hostess as the poet would have us believe.

HOLLY-DAY PIE
- 2 tablespoons soft butter
- 1½ cups (4-ounce package) shredded coconut
- 1 package vanilla pudding and pie filling mix
- 2 teaspoons gelatin
- Dash of salt
- 2 cups milk
- 1 egg yolk
- 1 egg white
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- ¼ cup cream, whipped
- 2 tablespoons chopped maraschino cherries (half red, half green)
- ¼ teaspoon rum extract (optional)

TO MAKE THE CRUST, spread butter evenly on bottom and sides of 9-inch pie pan. Sprinkle coconut in pan, pressing evenly into the butter. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 10 to 12 minutes, or until golden brown. Cool.

TO MAKE THE FILLING, combine pie filling mix, gelatin, salt, and ¼ cup milk in saucepan. Add egg yolk and blend well. Add remain 1¾ cups milk. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Remove from heat.

Beat egg white until foamy throughout. Add sugar, a tablespoon at a time, and continue beating until meringue will stand in peaks. Then fold in hot filling gradually. Chill, stirring occasionally. Fold in whipped cream, cherries, and rum extract, if desired. Pour into cooled coconut crust. Chill until firm. Garnish with whipped cream and a holly design made of cherry halves and leaves cut from citron. (ANS Features)
